Two Deans Resign at Governors State

Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth II, president of GSU, has accepted the resignations of two academic deans at the University, effectively immediately.

Dr. Roy T. Cogdell has been dean of the College of Human Learning and Development (HLD) since 1973. Dr. Reino W. Hakala has been dean of the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) since 1980.

Procedures have been started to name acting deans. In the interim, Dr. Addison Woodward (HLD) and Dr. Ronald Brubaker (CAS) are serving without title to carry on the normal functions of the respective deans’ offices.

Gift for Library

The University Library has received as a gift the Job-Seeker's Bible by Lawrence E. Barlow. Lawrence Barlow is the brother of Betty McDonnell, a GSU graduate (BA '78, MA '80). Betty is acting as the Chicago area distributor for this book.

The book is available in the library.

Do not attempt to do a thing unless you are sure of yourself; but do not relinquish it simply because someone else is not sure of you.

GSU-Community Chorale to Perform Handel’s Messiah.

The GSU-Community Chorale and Chamber Orchestra will perform “Messiah,” by George Frederick Handel in the University Music Recital Hall this Sunday, December 6, at 4:00 p.m. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

In few other events here is the University’s regional character so well evidenced. The chorus of 38 voices represents 22 communities, primarily in the southern suburbs. The 23 piece chamber orchestra draws its membership from 9 different cities or towns.

Soloists for the concert are Karen Blunk, soprano, recently appointed community professor of voice; Donna Strukoff, mezzo; Roger Scanlon, tenor; and Thomas Sandri, bass.

The GSU String Quartet will assist the orchestra as first chair players in their respective sections. They are Dr. Francois D’Albert, first violin and concertmaster; Elmer Rosen, second violin; Robert Shamo, viola; and Alan Rostoker, cello.
"Shrew" at GSU

What many consider to be William Shakespeare's most rollicking comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew" comes to GSU for a single performance by the National Shakespeare Co. of New York tonight.

The professional production, a Student Activities sponsored event, will be staged in the University Theatre at 8:00 p.m.

The National Shakespeare Co. is a group of 12 actors which tours 110 cities in 40 states during its seven-month season. More than 175,000 see its productions each year. Founded in 1963 by Philip Meister, who is still the artistic director, the company is completely self-contained. The actors not only perform, but also set up the stage, execute all technical functions involved with the show and even drive the bus. For instance, Brian Tyrrell takes not one, but two minor parts in "Taming of the Shrew" and serves as technical director, as well.

"Our primary purpose," Meister explains, "is two-fold: To bring the beauty and truth of Shakespeare to people who otherwise would never see his plays done professionally and to give American actors an opportunity to perform the classics." He further notes that "Shakespeare wrote plays to be seen and enjoyed, and in that sense he was the Neil Simon of his day. He was popular because people enjoyed his plays."

Tickets are $3.00 for general admission, $2.00 for GSU faculty/staff/alumni association members and senior citizens with I.D.; and $1.00 for children. GSU students are admitted free with I.D.

GSU-Community Symphonic Band Presents Winter Concert

The 47-piece Governors State University-Community Symphonic Band will present its annual winter concert on Tuesday evening, December 8, at 8:00 p.m. in Music Recital Hall. The public is invited, admission is free.

Directed by Robert Hindsley, community professor of music at GSU, the band will play music ranging from Girolamo Frescobaldi and Emmanuel Chabrier to Twentieth Century composers Edwin Franko Goldman and Norman Delio Joio.

The band is composed of students who earn collegiate credit in music, members of the GSU staff and residents of communities throughout the region served by Governors State, mostly the southern suburbs. In all, 20 communities are represented.

Insurance Consultant Discusses Estate Planning

Reta Brudd, a consulting actuary from Tinley Park, Illinois, led a discussion on "Estate Planning for Women" in B Lounge at GSU Wednesday, December 2. The public was invited to the free program.

Ms. Brudd is a fellow of the Life Management Institute, an organization for people in insurance and estate planning. A graduate of the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle Campus, she has been employed for two years as a consulting actuary with Carrell Co., Hickory Hills. She has worked in insurance, pensions and planning for the past nine years. A 20-year resident of Tinley Park, she is a member of the Tinley Park Human Resources Commission, Board of Directors for the United Way of Tinley Park and the American Society of Pension Actuaries.

The program was presented under the auspices of the GSU Women's Resource Center.

Ability is of little account without opportunity.

Napoleon Bonaparte
Violinist D'Albert Presents Bach Recital

Dr. Francois D'Albert, community professor of violin at GSU, will present a free concert of music by J. S. Bach on Sunday, December 13, at 4:00 p.m. in the University's Music Recital Hall.

D'Albert will be accompanied at the harpsichord by Evangeline Mendoza Bourgeois, a graduate of GSU and a faculty member of Chicago State University.

The program consists of three sonatas for violin and harpsichord, No. 4 in C minor, No. 2 in A Major and No. 6 in G Major. The final piece will be dedicated to the memory of Walter A. Erley, past president of Sherwood Music School, with which D'Albert has been associated for a number of years.

"FFFM" Bookings Available

An original young people's musical revue is being prepared by the GSU Youth Theatre for a spring tour of elementary and junior high schools within commuting distance of GSU. Bookings are now being accepted for April 19 through May 21.

"The Fantastic Fabulous Fabricating Machine" is a play with a split personality, according to Temmie Gilbert, University professor and director of the Youth Theatre. "We are preparing two versions of the basic script. Both are contemporary, bouncy musicals which explore the dynamics of the process and magic of theatre. The elementary school version ends with an amusing presentation of a familiar fairy tale. The junior high version culminates in a scene from an entertaining theatre classic."

Chris and Li Ussery, who have assisted Gilbert on other presentations at GSU in recent years, collaborated on the original script of "FFFM."

Workbooks containing games and exercises germinating from material in the play will be sent to teachers one month prior to the performance.

For further information, call Gilbert at the University Theatre, extension 2119.

Salm Duo Returns to GSU Concert Series

The Salm Duo, an internationally-known piano and cello team based in the southern suburbs, returned to the Student Activities concert series at GSU on Thursday, December 3, in Music Recital Hall.

Erna Salm, Flossmoor pianist, and daughter Susan, concert cellist with a growing reputation on two continents, played both solo and duet works.

Susan and Erna Salm have been performing together for a decade. European tours have taken them throughout Germany, Switzerland, Austria, France, Belgium and Scandinavia, and the Duo has performed over numerous radio and television stations here and abroad. They have played before capacity audiences at GSU twice before.
I thought how sadly beauty of inscape was unknown and buried away and yet how near at hand it was if it could be called out everywhere again.
