Noted Doctor, Lawyer to Receive Honorary Degrees at GSU Commencement

The Honorable Sol M. Linowitz, formerly personal representative of the President and ambassador for Middle East Peace Negotiations, and Dr. Alvin F. Poussaint, of Harvard Medical School, one of the nation's most prominent black doctors, will receive honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degrees at the Twelfth Annual Commencement of GSU at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, June 5-6, according to Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth, president.

During the two-day exercises more than 900 bachelor's and master's degrees will be conferred upon students who have completed their work since June, 1981.

Linowitz will be honored at the Saturday ceremony, when graduates of the HLD, BOG and UWW programs will receive their degrees. Poussaint will be honored Sunday along with graduates of BPA, CAS and SHP.

Linowitz, currently senior partner of the international law firm of Coudert Brothers, has had a distinguished career in government, public service and industry since 1942. In 1978-80, he was chairman of the Presidential Commission on World Hunger. Prior to that, he was co-negotiator, with the rank of ambassador, of the Panama Canal Treaties. His government service includes his term as ambassador to the Organization of American States and U.S. representative to the Inter-American Committee of the Alliance for Progress.

He was with Xerox Corporation from 1955-1966, ultimately serving as chairman of the board. Among many positions he has held in the private sector is the office of vice chairman, John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in 1965-70.

Linowitz earned the A.B. degree at Hamilton College and the J.D. degree at Cornell Law School. He has been recognized for his achievements with honorary degrees from 31 colleges and universities from coast to coast.

Poussaint has served Harvard Medical School since 1969 as associate professor of psychiatry. Since 1978, he has been associate dean for student affairs, associate in psychiatry at Judge Baker Guidance Center, and associate professor of psychiatry at Children's Hospital Medical Center, both in Boston. He also served on the faculty of Tufts University Medical School from 1965-69, and was southern field director, Medical Committee for Human Rights in Jackson, Miss.

He is a member of the board of trustees for both the National Association of Afro-American Artists and Operation PUSH. He is health consultant to the Congressional Black Caucus, a member of the National Medical Association and the Medical Committee for Human Rights.

Poussaint, as a practicing psychiatrist and an instructor, has concentrated on the special problems, psychological and emotional, of black Americans. Through his memberships in black interest organizations and in national professional societies, he has fought to make inexpensive, effective psychiatric help available to the poor.

He is the co-author of a book entitled Black Child Care, and has had many articles published in academic and professional periodicals.

Poussaint earned the B.A. at Columbia College, the M.D. at Cornell University Medical College and the M.S. at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He has been honored numerous times for his academic achievements and his contributions to human and civil rights.

Photography, Oil Paintings on View in GSU Galleries

Two graduate students in the College of Arts and Sciences have placed their final projects on view in the art galleries of Governors State University for the entire month of June.

Leon Savage, of Kankakee, will present a one-man show of oil paintings in the Visual Arts Gallery under the title "Oppression and Struggle: An African, Afro-American and Third World Portrait." Gallery is open to the public admission free noon to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Dan Krupa, Chicago, is displaying photographs of color abstractions under the title "Helter Skelter" in the Infinity Gallery. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. weekdays. There is no charge.

Visual Arts Gallery is on the first floor and Infinity Gallery is on the second floor, both in CAS in B Wing.

CORNESKY TO LEAVE GSU FOR POST AT TEXAS TECH

Dr. Robert A. Cornesky, for the past six years director of the School of Health Professions at Governors State University, has been appointed dean of the new School of Allied Health at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Lubbock, Texas.

In his new post, effective July 1, Cornesky will be responsible for the health science programs at regional campuses in Amarillo, Odessa and El Paso in addition to the main campus in Lubbock.

During his tenure at GSU, Cornesky has achieved accreditation for many of the programs in the School of Health Professions. Most recently, the University's Bachelor of Science in Nursing program gained accreditation from the National League for Nursing.

Prior to joining Governors State in late 1976, Cornesky served as chairman of the Department of Health Sciences of California State College, Bakersfield, for four years and assistant professor of biological sciences at Carnegie-Mellon University for five years. He previously was chief clinical serologist and assistant immunochemist for Bionetics Research Laboratories, Inc., Falls Church, Va.

Cornskey earned the B.S. degree at Geneva College, the M.S. degree in microbiology at George Washington University Medical School, and the Sc.D. in hygiene and microbiology at the Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh.

Two from GSU Honored for Exceptional Bravery

Margo Ellman and Cpl. Craig Martin of Governors State University hold plaques given them by the University Department of Safety for valor above and beyond the call of duty in separate incidents at GSU during 1981.

There's a proud modesty in merit; averse from asking, and resolved to pay ten times the gift it asks.

Siskel and Ebert at GSU This Month

A lecture presentation by the pair of movie critics who have made the "Sneak Previews" TV show a must-see for many viewers nationwide will be the June Student Activities sponsored event. Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert will appear in the GSU Theatre at 7:30 p.m. June 25.

Gene Siskel has been the Chicago Tribune's film critic since June 1970. From 1974 he has also served as critic for WBBM-TV and currently reviews the movie scene on the Channel 2 news.

Roger Ebert has written film commentary for the Chicago Sun-Times since 1967 and is the only motion picture critic ever to have won the Pulitzer Prize (1975). Ebert writes five or six times a week for the Sun-Times and his reviews, interviews and feature stories are distributed to more than 100 other newspapers.

Siskel and Ebert have co-hosted and co-written the weekly film review program "Sneak Previews" since 1976. Their often conflicting verdicts on new films and their lively and urbane commentaries on the state of the art are responsible for the expansion of their viewing public. The program is produced by Chicago PBS-TV station WTTW and now appears on some 240 other stations. The program won a Chicago Emmy Award in 1979.

General admission for the lecture is $3.00. GSU staff, faculty, alumni and senior citizens with valid IDs are $2.00; children under 12 years old are $1.00; and GSU students with valid IDs are admitted free.

For registration and other information, contact Sharon Green in the Office of Special Programs, extension 2121.

Trouble Talking with Kids About Alcoholism? Learn How at GSU Seminar

"How to Talk with Children about Drinking," an intensive day-and-a-half seminar at GSU on June 17-18, is offered for parents, teachers, counselors, clergy and others who are seeking new approaches to this delicate situation.

Participants will learn how to cope with anger; how to get children to listen; what a parent can do to resolve conflicts; and how to be a consultant to your child. The parent effectiveness theory of Dr. Thomas Gordon is the main approach used throughout the seminar, which will be taught by Gregory Morin.

Interested persons should register by June 10. Sessions will be from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Thursday and 9:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. on Friday. The seminar has been approved by the Illinois Alcoholism Counselors Certification Board for 9 hours of continuing education credit. Students seeking one hour of college credit must complete a short paper.

H-F High School Senior Wins Economic Essay Contest

Urging that "as citizens we must keep our eyes on the long-term goals of Reaganomics and give it a chance to work." Homewood-Flossmoor High School senior Sue Hruska has won regional first prize of $150 in an essay contest sponsored by the Office of Economic Education of Governors State University.

The topic "How Reaganomics Affects My Family and Community" was assigned for the First Economic Education Awards Program for Illinois High School juniors and seniors.

Receiving a second place award of $75 was Ken Dihy from Lyons Township High School, LaGrange. In third place and receiving $25 was Steven Gibson from Thornridge High School, Dolton.

Shp Students Assist In Blood Pressure Screening

Seven BSN students enrolled in the Community Health Nursing classes of Linda Ziemann and Constance Edwards of the SHP faculty participated in vision and blood pressure screening of Eastern Will County senior citizens recently.

The students received a special thank you via a letter in the "Senior Corner" of the Russel Publications newspaper from a grateful senior who praised the "... wonderful group of nurses ... working to obtain more professional status in the medical field."

Registration Extended for Summer Term

GSU is still accepting admission applications and credentials for degree-seeking students for the eight-week summer term beginning June 24.
