<td>During the commencement ceremony, students and faculty wear academic costumes indicating the wearer's degree and college or field of study.</td>
<td>The black mortarboard type is the most common cap worn. Degree candidates wear cap tassels that are black and white, the university colors. Colors worn by the faculty vary according to their fields of study.</td>
<td>Gowns, which are all black, are of three kinds. The bachelor's gown is relatively simple, with lines falling straight from a fairly elaborate yoke. Its distinguishing characteristic is the long pointed sleeve. Braided silken cords are worn by students who have achieved special scholastic recognition; gold signifies high honors; white, honors. The master's gown has sleeves with a back end extending down below the knee in a crescent shape. The doctor's gown is an elaborate costume with velvet panels down the front and around the neck, with three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves. It is cut much fuller than the other gowns and, unlike them, may be ornamental in color.</td>

This program is not an official university document. Due to rigid time requirements, it must be printed before the final lists of degree candidates can be determined. The exclusion of the name of a student is not to be taken as indication of official status as a non-graduate, nor is the inclusion of the name of a student to be taken as certification of official status as a graduate.

Photographers are requested to refrain from taking pictures during the ceremony.

AMITAI ETZIONI

Born in Koln, West Germany, in 1929, Amitai Etzioni holds the bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of California at Berkeley. He has been a university professor at George Washington University since 1980 and previously held positions of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor and professor at Columbia University.

He was chairman of the Department of Sociology at Columbia from 1969 to 1971.

Dr. Etzioni was senior advisor to Richard Harden, special assistant to President Jimmy Carter, during 1979-80. He served as guest scholar at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C., during 1978-79, and earlier held posts as senior staff member and as associate director at Columbia’s Bureau of Applied Social Research. He was director of the Center for Policy Research during 1968.

Dr. Etzioni delivered the Jane Globus Distinguished Lecture at Baruch College in 1984, the Wherrett Memorial Lecture at the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs of the University of Pittsburgh in 1981, the Franklin Foundation Lecture at Georgia State University in 1978 and 1979, the commencement address at the University of Connecticut in 1979, and the Guttentag Memorial Lecture at the 1978 annual meeting of the Evaluation Research Society. He was selected as a fellow of the Public Agenda Foundation for 1984-85, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship during 1968-69.

DAVID TAKAYOSHI SUZUKI

David Takayoshi Suzuki was born in Vancouver, British Columbia, in 1936 and received the bachelor of arts degree from Amherst College and the doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago. He has completed post-doctoral research at the Rocky Mountain Biological Lab in Crested Butte, Colo., and at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Oak Ridge, Tenn. He presently is a professor in the Department of Zoology at the University of British Columbia where he previously held posts as associate professor and as assistant professor. He was an assistant professor in the Department of Genetics at the University of Alberta for one year.

He has served as honorary professor at the University of Utah, as visiting professor at the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Puerto Rico, and the University of Toronto, and as visiting associate professor at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. Suzuki is author or co-author of 87 research works and 77 abstracts relating to genetics. He also is co-author of An Introduction to Genetic Analysis, a textbook currently in its third edition and extensively used throughout the world. Translations of the work exist in Chinese, Greek, Italian and Spanish. From 1974 to 1979 he served as associate editor of Genetics. He has been the subject of more than 150 articles.

He has received research grants from the National Research Council of Canada, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, the National Cancer Institute of Canada, the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada and the U.S. National Institutes of Health, and has lectured throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and Asia.

Honors received by Dr. Suzuki include the Quill Canadian Journalism Award and the United Nations Environmental Program Medal in 1985, the Medal of Honor of the Canadian Medical Association in 1984, and the Sanford Fleming Medal of the Royal Canadian Institute in 1982. He is a member and honorary director of the Canadian Environmental Defence Fund and was a member of the planning committee for the 1984 World Congress on Technology and Education. He also has served on boards of directors and advisory boards for numerous other organizations worldwide.
THE MACE

The Governors Mace, carried by the Marshall who leads the academic procession, is a symbol of the authority of the university as a degree-granting institution. The legal authority of the university is grounded in the intellectual authority of the distinguished faculty who follow in the procession.

In antiquity, the Mace was a weapon used to establish the "authority" of the physically strong. Its transformation into a symbol of intellectual authority is both a tribute to and a reminder of the civilizing force of a university's teaching, research, and community service functions.

Engraved on the four side-panels of the Governors Mace are: (1) the seal of the state of Illinois; (2) a cardinal, the state bird; (3) the seal of the Illinois Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities; and (4) an inscription which reads "The governors Mace, a symbol of tradition and authority of Governors State University's commitment to the search for excellence in the pursuit of truth, knowledge, and the love of learning. Presented by Peter Levin, friend of the university, June 2, 1979."

Atop the Mace is a silver rendition of the university logo. The three sides of the "triangle" symbolize the university's teaching, research, and community service functions. The three lines visually suggest the shape of a rocket, reminding us both that the university was founded two days after Neil Armstrong set foot on the moon and that the university is a hope-filled, pioneering community, committed to a better future for all men and women. The circle symbolizes the fact that the university is, indeed, a community. Finally, the fact that the tips of the triangle reach beyond the circle indicates the outreach into the region, the state, the country, and the world of teaching, research, and community service function of Governors State University.
