Provost Outlines Plans For Governors State University

David V. Curtis, GSU provost and vice president for Academic Affairs, presented a broad outline of his plans for the future in an address to the academic and professional community November 23. In words and tone which indicated his own deep commitment, Curtis touched briefly on his personal philosophy of higher education, stressing the importance of integrity, merit, the value of teaching and research and of liberal education. Citing the philosophy of GSU at its inception, he called on all members of the professional community to help in furthering the continued evolution of innovative higher education.

The provost, referring to his reorganization memo, stated that the College of Human Learning and Development, so that its primary function, education, can be highlighted, will be renamed the College of Education and Psychology, consisting of the Divisions of Education and Psychology and Counseling. Curtis' memo also stated that, subject to action by the Faculty Senate and the various state boards, CAS Division of Media Communications will add to its offerings the BA and MA in Interpersonal Communication and the MA in Instructional Training and Technology, options now offered in HLD.

The School of Health Professions, Curtis declared, should be called the College of Health Professions and the BA degree in Social Work, now offered in HLD, would be transferred to what is now called the Division of Health Sciences, that title to be changed to the Division of Health and Human Services. Curtis also stated that the University is working to gain state approval to eliminate the BHS in Alcoholism Sciences, anticipating, in the near future, the go ahead for an MHS in that area.

Other topics discussed by the provost in his address were better articulation with community colleges, encouragement of research, course scheduling and descriptions, and computer usage on campus.

Curtis further stated that "...we should be and the citizens (of this state) expect us to be, a good, solid, regional university. We should provide an excellent education for those students whom we serve."

The provost concluded his address with a call to the GSU community for cooperation and understanding during the reorganization, which, he said, was not really sweeping but should result in a period of consolidation and stability.
Dickens, Education

GSU VIEWS, a talk show for cable TV hosted by Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth, president of GSU, will feature during December such diverse subjects as alcoholism, Charles Dickens and the outlook for higher education.

The half-hour shows will be seen on Cox Cable Channel 4 in Park Forest, Joyce Cable Channel 3 in Joliet, Kankakee Cable Channel 6, Metrovision Channel 4 in 14 west and southwest communities, and UHF Channel 50, public TV from St. John, Indiana.

Anne Frye and Linda Jones, of SHP will be Goodman-Malamuth's first guests this month. They are specialists in alcoholism science. They will discuss the cause and effects of alcoholism, impact on families, how and where to get treatment and other pertinent matters.

In mid-December, Dr. Daniel Bernd, CAS professor of English, and Dr. Goodman-Malamuth carry on a timely and lively discussion about Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" and other aspects of the great English author.

Dr. George Ayers, recently appointed president of Chicago State University, will round out the December schedule. The two university presidents touch on many of the issues facing higher education in general and their respective urban, commuter institutions in particular.

These programs are offered as a public service by GSU. For specific listings, see the schedule which accompanies this article.

Harriet Gross, CAS, edited, with Marvin Sussman of the University of Delaware, the current issue of Marriage and Family Review. It is devoted to articles about alternatives to traditional family living.

One of the articles, about commuter marriages, was co-authored by Gross and Naomi Gerstel, of the University of Massachusetts.

Suzanne Prescott, HLD, was reviewer for the issue.
Joel Hall Dancers at GSU

Joel Hall Dancers, said to be the only Chicago-based dance company to have nine consecutive concert seasons in the city, will make its first appearance at GSU with a pair of performances on Friday and Saturday, December 3-4, at 8:00 pm in the University Theatre.

Hall, founder and director of the 15-member, integrated company, has created more than 20 ballets since the company's inception in 1974. The GSU programs will feature at least two of them — "L'Etranger" and "Erutuf I," as well as a new ballet by Homer Bryant of Chicago City Ballet.

In a review of the Joel Hall Dancers' initial 1982-83 program earlier this month, the Chicago Tribune's Richard Christiansen declared, "There's an encouraging aura of confidence and strength in this latest round of performances."

The company presents a mixture of modern, jazz and ballet works to music of both classical and jazz composers, from Shostakovich to Ellington. It has appeared before audiences of all ages and origins. Since 1977, it has presented "The Jazzman," an educational dance program, from 60 to 70 times per school year in Chicago area elementary and secondary schools.

In the spring of 1979, the Joel Hall Dancers spearheaded the Chicago Dance Performance Project, a collaboration of Chicago dance companies to present professional dance in Chicago neighborhoods unexposed to this artform.

The program is sponsored by the Student Activities Office. GSU students are admitted free. Admission for others is $3.00 for the general public; $2.00 for GSU faculty and staff, members of the GSU Alumni Association and senior citizens; and $1.00 for children under 12.

Ambassador From India at Governors State

Ambassador K. R. Narayanan of India made a special appearance on the campus of Governors State University, Thursday evening, December 2, when he delivered a lecture on "Comparative Foreign Policy" in Engbretson Hall. The internationally known diplomat analyzed the East-West and Third World relations. Dr. Susanne Rudolph, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, served as respondent to Narayanan's views.

The ambassador has served in the Indian foreign service since 1949. He has been ambassador to the United States since October, 1980. He held similar posts in Thailand, Turkey and People's Republic of China. Formerly, he was a member of the Indian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly in New Delhi in 1979-80.

This is Narayanan's second association with GSU. He was a keynote speaker at the 1982 Third World Conference.

The lecture was sponsored by the Division of Intercultural Studies, CAS.

European Trip
GSU faculty, staff and students are invited to join Lowell Culver (BPA), on a nine-day summer tour of Germany and Holland, from June 6 to June 14, 1983. The tour will include Heidelberg, Rothenburg, Munich, Dachau, East and West Berlin, Hamburg and Amsterdam. Cost of the trip is $1,149.00, which includes air fare to and from Europe, bus transportation within Europe, all hotels and sight-seeing, all meals and two lunches. Interested persons may contact Culver at D3103 or by calling extension 2259/53.

Salvation Army Christmas Baskets
As it has every year for so many Christmas seasons, the Salvation Army will distribute baskets of food to needy families. This year there are many more needy persons. GSUers, including students, wishing to donate canned goods to the organization for distribution to less fortunate families this Christmas, can call (312) 754-3062 during business hours to find out more.

To All GSUers: How To Report Your News

We would like to make sure news of your important events or achievements can be reported in a timely and informative manner.
In order to do this, we need your help. Two elements are necessary.
1. Make sure that we have names, purpose, location, dates, and times. A phone number where you can be reached is very helpful if we require further information. We may not use everything you send, but we would rather have too much material than not enough.
2. Send news of an activity early enough so that we can get it out to our readers before the fact. It will be much more useful that way.
The deadline for Landscapes/Inscapes news and where and who to send it to is printed just below the masthead, usually on page two. Look for it.
