FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS RETURNS IN FALL...A major three-day Festival of the Arts, involving a wide variety of both professional and amateur performing and visual artists, is planned for Oct. 16 through 18 at the university, according to Dr. Arthur Bourgeois, chairperson of the Fine and Performing Arts Division of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Bourgeois notes, "We will once again offer local artists and students an opportunity to showcase their talents along with artists of national or international reputation."

The festival is being presented by the university as a free public service. Planning for more than 15 events is well under way.

ONE OF THE MANY OUTSTANDING HEALTH PROFESSIONS EDUCATORS AT GSU...*Dr. Gregory Blevins joined the faculty of the Governors State University College of Health Professions in 1982 as a professor of alcoholism sciences in the Division of Health and Human Services. In addition to the usual classroom responsibilities, Dr. Blevins has been active as a leader in alcoholism seminars for professional counselors.

He holds bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees, as well as a specialty certificate in alcohol and drug abuse, from Western Michigan University.

Dr. Blevins began his teaching career as a high school instructor and coach in Berrien Springs, Md. For several years during his graduate studies, he was a teaching assistant and associate in sociology.

Serving as a specialist in alcohol and drug abuse studies, Dr. Blevins was on the faculty of the University of South Dakota during 1980-82.

Dr. Blevins is a member of the American Sociological Association and American Public Health Association.

He says that he enjoys swimming, reading, card-playing and softball.

SEPTEMBER THEOLOGY FOR LUNCH PROGRAMS...Theology for Lunch noontime programs are scheduled to be held at the university on Tuesdays during the month of September. "The Jesus Prayer" will be the topic of discussion by the Rev. Louis J. Wawrzyniak, assistant curate of St. Michael's Orthodox Mission in South Holland on Sept. 9. Sister Jane Anthrop, O.S.F., director of pastoral care at St. James Hospital in Chicago Heights, will discuss "Ministry to Cancer Patients and Their Families" on Sept. 16. On Sept. 23 a program entitled "Next to the Last Things" will be offered by the Rev. Eugene P. Parnisari of Legal Advocacy Services for Seniors, Catholic Charities, Naperville. Scheduled for Sept. 30 will be "Public Welfare in Illinois," presented by Janet Kittlaus, Public Welfare Coalition, Evanston.

The lectures are open to the public at no charge and participants may bring a lunch or purchase one from the cafeteria.

FALL 1986 PLANNING CONFERENCE SCHEDULED..."Telecommunications Technology and Continuing Education: the Identification and Development of University Priorities" is the topic for the Fall 1986 Planning Conference at the university, 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., Sept. 16. The program will feature a live video hook-up to Washington, D.C., and Portland, Ore., according to Dr. Virginio Pucci, (A&P).

Dr. Pucci explained that participants will learn how higher education policymakers view the role of telecommunications in the near future, and what pioneers in college telecourse delivery have to say about their experiences. Participants also will find out what survey data tells about trends in the developing field of telecommunications and Public Broadcasting System plans for the future.

For further information about this program, please contact the Office of Conferences and Workshops at extension 2436.

MIDDLE EAST CONFERENCE OFFERED IN SEPTEMBER...According to conference coordinator Dr. Barbara Jenkins (CE), the "Middle East Conference: Movements for Dialogue and Peace" will take place from 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sunday and Monday, Sept. 14-15 at the Americana-Congress Hotel.

The conference will allow the Chicago Jewish, Palestinian and educational communities to address together the important issues in the Middle East conflict. Panelists will try to clarify issues, perceptions, values and needs of both sides and reveal areas of common ground and disagreement.

Dr. Jenkins said that, "We hope to build networks between the communities, especially in the form of dialogue groups which can establish grass-roots support for leaders to change and increase knowledge of conflict resolution methods."

Conference fee is $35, and special hotel arrangements are available directly from the Americana-Congress.

DAVID GOLDFLIES' DUOS PERFORMS SEPT. 18...The Office of Student Life will sponsor the performance of popular jazz-rock band, David Goldflies' Duos at 5:30 p.m., Sept. 18, in the university theatre. David Goldflies' Duos has an original sound featuring a heavy bass guitar played by David Goldflies. Goldflies, founder and the driving force behind the band, has been playing bass professionally for over 15 years. His credits include international tours with the Allman Brothers Band, the Gregg Allman Band, Dickey Betts and Great Southern and Betts, Hall, Leavel and Trucks.

Explaining the effect of his music, Goldflies says, "The group presents hot jazz with a progressive edge. A free use of harmony and melody keeps Duos' compositions fresh and catching while driving rock rhythms keep the crowds moving."

For more information concerning the concert, call Bonnie Winkofsky (SL) at extension 2123.

CIVIL SERVICE NEWSLETTER NEEDS NEWS... Virginia Eysenbach (UR) requests that any and all news items that involve civil service employees at work or play be sent to her for the next issue of Net-work. You may also call extension 2122 to report your news directly.

FREE COUNSELING OFFERED BY CE... Once again, the Division of Psychology and Counseling in the College of Education will be offering free counseling sessions for area couples and families. According to Dr. David Matteson (CE), the sessions are conducted as part of a course for his advanced graduate students who are training in marriage and family counseling.

Traditional areas covered in the course include marriage and remarriage, divorce and adjustment to major changes in life, such as retirement or children leaving home. All material presented by clients during counseling sessions will be held in strict confidence, and names are revealed to no one but the counselors working with the clients.

Interested persons may make an appointment for counseling or obtain more information by calling Dr. Matteson at the university on extension 2399. He also may be reached at (312) 672-8807.

When the nation took its first census in 1790, only five percent of the population lived in cities or towns. Most of the 3.9 million people lived in farm areas.

MUSIC SCHOLAR PRESENTS PROGRAM ON LISZT... Dr. Lawrence Campbell of Illinois Wesleyan University will present a Liszt lecture and piano recital at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 18, 1986 in the Music Recital Hall. Dr. Campbell plans to observe the 100-year anniversary of Franz Liszt by presenting lectures and piano recitals throughout the Midwest devoted to the artist's piano music.

According to Dr. Campbell, "These programs should be especially valuable to piano teachers. I hope to correct the popular misconception that Liszt wrote piano music only for the virtuoso performer. I will introduce some works of intermediate difficulty suitable for the young pianist."

Dr. Campbell holds academic degrees from Northwestern University, from which he graduated magna cum laude, and from Indiana University, where he received the doctor of music degree in performance with highest distinction.

The lecture and recital is sponsored by the Office of Student Life and the student chapter of MENC. The public is invited to the performance, and there is no charge.

Planned for Sept. 4 is the guitar music of Bobby Roberts. On Sept. 11 Tom Matecki will present a musical program on piano, flute and tape. Soprano Karen Blunk will be featured on Sept. 18, and pianist Nancy DenBesten will entertain the lunchtime audience on Sept. 25.

Luncheon Notes is sponsored by the student chapter of MENC and the Office of Student Life

PUBLIC RELATIONS COURSE BEGINS SEPT. 4... "Introduction to Public Relations" is a new course which will be taught during the fall trimester at the university by John Ostenburg (UR). The course will introduce the beginning student to the public relations profession and to the tools used by practitioners. It will present the history and philosophy of public relations and train the student in the techniques of preparing public relations plans to satisfy the needs of both private businesses and public institutions or organizations.

Ostenburg and Dr. Linda Steiner (CAS), professor of journalism, will present a two-day program on "Public Relations for the Non-professional" as the university's annual Media Symposium program on Oct. 25 and Nov. 11. The program is offered for either credit or non-credit to both graduate and undergraduate students.

SINCERE CONDOLENCES... To Randy Wazelewski (BO, Print Shop) on the passing of his father Stanley on Sept. 2. His parents resided in Kankakee.
