NORTH CENTRAL VISITING TEAM will be here Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, December 11, 12, and 13. JERRY BAYSORE is scheduling specific meetings, but the members of the team will be spending time visiting throughout the University, gathering data for their recommendations. This distinguished team represents a variety of areas of expertise and this will, undoubtedly, be reflected in their many areas of concern. Both the viewers and the viewees will find this visit interesting.

MATCH THE ROAD...and remember to use the new access road to the permanent site if you are going to the Planning Building or Hantack House. JOHN MINNER of B & PO indicates that the former access road is now in such a poor state of repair that it is being closed. The new road is 1,000 feet east of the old farm lane.

VISITORS BOX SCORE

HEW Site Visit Team in relation to JAMES TILLS' proposal for Alcoholism Treatment Training Program, with R & I's BOB KREBS.

Doctoral candidates from the University of Chicago, studying GSU as part of a seminar. They toured the mini-campus with JERRY BAYSORE as their guide.

GSUings...Mike Lewis (CHLD), and his wife Judy preparing a cassette tape series of distinguished and original thought in guidance and counseling entitled "Counseling and the Social Revolution"...the series is produced by the American Personnel and Guidance Association, and is intended to have widespread application in a variety of settings. Music for the tape is by Verne Wandell (ICC)...John Canning (Office of Communications) and his wife, Kay, planning an encore by accompanying and handling news releases again for the Homewood-Flossmoor High School Viking Choir when it goes overseas on "A Rhine Journey" in the spring. John and Kay were with the choir on its Russian tour three years ago. Roscoe Perrett (CBPS) utilizing his expertise in accounting and data processing methodology by conducting for the State Department a 30 hour seminar for the Chicago-land area college business teachers...Mel Muchnik (Office of Communications) attending the Illinois College Relations Conference in Edwardsville and, with Debbie Harter (ICC), attending a meeting of the Illinois Public Broadcasters at Sangamon State...John Lowe (CHLD) speaking to the South Cook County Speech and Hearing Association on the Communications Science Program at GSU and presenting a paper at the American Speech and Hearing Association Convention in San Francisco on "Communication Skills of Orthopedically Handicapped Children."

Jazz Concert...will be held on the Commons at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesday, December 13. The College of Cultural Studies invites everyone to attend the concert of the GSU Jazz Ensemble. Featured will be both traditional and Big Band compositions. In addition, the concert represents the premiere of the Studio Reading Ensemble, a small group of advanced musicians who perform in straight rock, hard jazz, avantgarde and electronically produced sound.

Student solves problem...of communication through the use of graphics. Julie Hopkins (CCS student and a cooperative education student in ICC) has produced a unique solution called a "Bagalog." The problem lay in the many functions performed by the ICC and the uncertainty the University staff had as to procedures and personnel to contact. The "bagalog" provides an attractive, inexpensive way of providing the necessary information at one's fingertips.

Human Sexuality Workshop...part II, will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 15, 16, and 17. Friday evening at 8 p.m. Dr. Hobart Newer of the University of Illinois will speak on "Changing Conceptions of Neurosis." Speakers December 16 will be Ms. Mary Pollock, also of the University of Illinois, on "Women's Body and Its Relation to Sexuality," Dr. Dr. Don Douglas, CEAS, will speak on "Human Sexual Response," and Dr. Jon Carlson, CHLD, on "Psychological Treatment of Sexual Problems." Lab sessions will be conducted by Ms. Barbara O'Donnell (Student Services), Dr. Tulsi Saral (CHLD), Dr. Ken Wieg (Student Services), the Rev. Elmer Witt, Lutheran Campus Minister, and Ms. Pollock. Additional workshops and a discussion of "Communication for Sexual Responsiveness" by Dr. Tulsi Saral will be on the agenda for December 17. The workshop is focusing on sexual dysfunctioning, the understanding and treating of impotence and frigidity.

CEAS Community Council...will meet at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, December 16. To be discussed at this meeting is the curriculum for students studying the teaching of science. Future meetings will deal with instructional programs in science and health science. The EAS council meets monthly.

COLLEGE INSTRUCTION: 10 MAJOR MYTHS...

"...we act as if these things were true:

1. That the specific knowledge acquired by the student is related to the long range educational goals that exist in the mind of the instructor.
2. That the aptitudes, achievements, and backgrounds of the students in a classroom are approximately equal.
3. That aptitude is more important than previous achievement for the attainment of knowledge.
4. That all people learn in the same way and take approximately the same amount of time to learn the same thing.
5. That listening to lectures and reading books are powerful means for changing student behavior.
6. That students retain knowledge without requiring much review and relearning.
7. That course grades tell us what a student knows and can do.
8. That a college professor is, by virtue of the title, a good professor of knowledge.
9. That teaching is an art that requires no tools and no underlying technology.
10. That the structure imposed upon knowledge by a discipline is the best structure for transmitting that knowledge to students."

And, while we're on the subject, take a look at the really neat things ICC is sending around the University.

BUSY WEEKENDS...around the University, it's now difficult to decide by the parking lots whether it's a week day or a weekend. The last CHLD Sunday Evening Drop-In had a record 125 people in attendance. At least 60 people participated in the first of the two Human Sexuality Workshops offered this Session. In addition to regular classes on Saturday, there are also the creative dramatics classes offered for children.
An art exhibit of work by KEN GRAVES, a CCS student, will be held all during the week in the Commons
