RECORD ENROLLMENT FOR GSU... 2,944 students are enrolled for the S/O 74 session setting a new enrollment high. The figure is slightly less than projected four years ago before the University opened, but fairly close to the revised estimates of 3,000 students. Yearly highs for GSU are normally established in the March/April session, may well crack through original projections before the year is out. GSU continues to grow about as expected despite the state and national trends of levelling off or declining enrollments. Perhaps the major difference from the original projections of several years ago is the percentage of graduate students which now surpasses half of the student population or 54% to be exact. More students are going to school full time than originally projected, 77% as opposed to approximately 64% projected. Originally, the Board of Governors approved GSU's levelling off point at about 10,000 students. However, this was dependent on a phase II and phase III which would triple the size of the current building. Phase II is more than two years behind in planning, although the BOG has approved a reduced Phase II (about half the size of Phase I). But the approval of the BHE has not yet been given and that is the hurdle the university faces in the next few months. In the meantime, GSU's unique student body (the average age is about 29, 54% graduate students, 66% married, most working full time) continues to grow.

DIALOGUE WITH THE PRESIDENT... and student leaders, the first of the new year will take place this Tuesday in the Commons at 12:15 p.m. Observations, suggestions, questions by both students and GSU President BILL ENGBRETSON will be the order of the day as the Dialogue sessions resume. Dialogues with the President have occurred at about the rate of one per session since the University began (and have drawn groups of 10 to 200). Everyone is invited to participate in this free wheeling session.

FAZE I DEADLINE... is Wednesday morning for a Friday distribution. Items should be submitted in writing to the Office of Communications. FAZE I editor since last fall has been MEL MUCHNIK. Items may be given to him or any other member of the Office of Communications (JOHN CANNING, MARY LOU CAMPBELL or TINA LANUM) or forwarded by campus mail.

COMMAGER TO SPEAK AT GSU...The Illinois Council for the Arts and Humanities will hold its meeting at GSU on October 24 with its featured speaker at 11 a.m. being noted historian and humanist Henry Steele Commager. Dr. Commager will address the subject, "Breaking Barriers: Individual and Governmental Responsibility--A Challenge to Illinois Humanists." The Professor of History at Amherst College in Massachusetts has written and been published widely from the Saturday Review to the Boston Globe to various professional journals to several books on history which have been considered substantial contributions to the humanities' examination of public policy issues. The Illinois Council for the Arts and Humanities was created in response to the National Endowment for the Humanities which invited civic leaders and professional educators to begin Illinois' efforts. GSUers may hear Commager's address if there is enough room to accommodate Council members.

IC EXTENSION COST SHOCKER...The Sept. 25 meeting of the Chicago South Suburban Mass Transit District was rudely awakened when estimated costs of the IC extension to GSU and Park Forest South were presented at double the figure originally given. Cost estimates presented the trustees were $5.37 million or an overrun of $2.44 million. Railroad officials at the meeting said the higher costs resulted from increasing the scope of the service. Where is the extra money to come from? That's what the trustees would like to know. The board requested more detailed info from the ICC on the reasons for the increased cost estimates.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: What is "Tattle Tape?" Answer next week for tattlers.

VISIT BY CONSUL GENERAL OF MEXICO...to the GSU campus will take place Tuesday. Francisco L. Acevedo-Morga will discuss the cultural and educational exchange between Illinois and Mexico in a series of meetings during the day. GSU and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction earlier this year co-sponsored a bilingual-bicultural institute which included 10 days in Mexico. MANNY CHAVEZ (CBPS) was director of the Institute.

"Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. The course is 'The Roots of the English Novel.' I'm Professor Fowler, and I assume all of you can read and write."
Ridin' on the City of New Orleans,
Illinois Central Monday morning rail, 15 cars and 15 restless riders,
three conductors, 25 sacks of mail.
All on the southbound odyssey
the train pulls out of Kankakee
and rolls past houses, farms and fields;
passing towns that have no name and freight yards full of old black men and the graveyards of rusted automobiles.

Singin': "Good morning America! How are you?
Say, don't you know me? I'm your native son.
I'm the train they call the City of New Orleans.
I'll be gone 500 miles when day is done."

Dealin' card games with the old men in the club car.
Penny a point and no one's keeping score.
Pass the paper bag that holds the bottle
and feel the wheels a-rumblin' 'neath the floor.
And the sons of Pullman porters and the sons of engineers ride their fathers' magic carpet made of steel.
And mothers with their babes asleep
are rocking to the gentle beat,
the rhythm of the rail is all they dream.

"Good morning America! How are you?
Say, don't you know me? I'm your native son.
I'm the train they call the City of New Orleans
I'll be gone 500 miles when day is done."

Nighttime on the City of New Orleans, changing cars in Memphis, Tennessee.
Halfway home and we'll be there by morning,
through the Mississippi darkness rollin' to the sea.
But all the towns and people seem to fade into a bad dream.
Well, the steel rail hasn't heard the news:
The conductor sings his song again
it's "passengers will please refrain,
this train has the disappearin' railroad blues."

"Goodnight America! How are you?
Say, don't you know me? I'm your native son.
I'm the train they call the City of New Orleans
I'll be gone 500 miles when day is done."

(Repeat chorus for close.)
