Vol. 5, No. 3

1976-7 FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS ANNOUNCED...

Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowships: designed to support projects of humanistic scholarship yielding a deeper understanding of contemporary values; applicants are expected to devote approx. one year full-time to complete project; not for completion of graduate or professional studies. Application deadline--Nov. 21.

German Marshall Fund Fellowship Program: for full-time research leading to "better understanding and resolution of significant contemporary and emerging problems common to industrial societies." Application deadline--Nov. 1.

American-Scandinavian Foundation Fellowships: for study in Scandinavian countries. Candidates should have begun graduate work and possess language competency for country chosen.

If interested, contact UR, ext. 2419 for complete information.

MESSAGE FROM DEAN COGDELL: CHLD has suspended 2 students until further notice for cheating. They have been charged with forging faculty signatures on achievement forms. Their cases have been referred to the appropriate committee for review and disposition. Dean Cogdell goes on record as being vehemently opposed to academic and intellectual dishonesty, and will be keeping close vigilance on these matters.
PATRIOTIC PLEA...The Office of Community Services has begun making plans for a modest Bicentennial Celebration. Several communities have indicated an interest in working with the University on such a program. Typical suggestions for this event have included restoration of a historical site; a town meeting in which participants identify and analyze major issues of this society; a series of community-based seminars that study the contribution and impact of different ethnic groups on our culture. If you have other ideas or wish to serve on the planning committee for the project, please contact Community Services, Rosemarie Link, ext. 2346 or 2347.

THEOLOGY FOR LUNCH...Join the bunch with your lunch Wed., Sept. 17, for a discussion of Women in the Bible—Breaking the Image, led by Sr. Julie Rice, OSF, Campus Minister at Lewis University. Room Dll20 at noon.

CLIP ARTISTS ALERT...Please send to University Relations clippings of news you come across reporting GSU events; clippings are used on the poster board in the Hall of Governors. Contributions from faculty, staff, and students are particularly important now that the budget crunch has caused cancellation of our commercial clipping service.

WOMEN'S RESOURCE CENTER MEETING...A meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 18, 1 p.m., in the CCS Lounge to discuss the opening of a Women's Resource Center office in the Human Services offices of GSU. This center will continue the efforts of the Women's Data Bureau which operated last spring out of Harriet Gross' office, CCS Women's Studies Program. Ms. Bea Lickoff, who holds an M.A. in Public Service from GSU and is the State of Illinois Civil Service Commissioner, will coordinate the activities of the center. All interested persons in the South Suburban community are encouraged to attend this meeting to discuss programs and plans for the proposed Center. For further information, call Harriet Gross, ext. 2427.

EXAMINE THE UPS AND DOWNS...Test your agility and alertness! Answer the call to play on the "SYNERGY" volleyball team. Call "Spike" (Jim Laukes, TCC), ext. 2316.

A THUMP ON THE HEAD TO

Richard Lubbock: "Women want to be dominated, are less creative, and less fitted to lead than men."

Ambassador William Saxbe: "Hell, there never was anything to talk to — except a bunch of secretaries."
OFFICIAL GSU FACULTY COUPON BOOK... At a recent farewell luncheon in honor of Bruce Meyers, who left GSU for Simpson College, Iowa, Chuck Meister (BPS) presented Dr. Meyers with a book of coupons, as follows:

The first, and perhaps last, open, flexible, humane, self-paced, competency-based, individualized, self-actualized coupon book. This book will also self-destruct if you try to use it.

COUPONS: One very small GSU medallion with one very long inscription: "I am a GSU faculty member. In case of an accident please recite Chapter 1, Verse 1, from Robert F. Mager's book, 'Setting Instructional Objectives.' You will find a copy inside my shirt where I always carry it next to my heart."

For an additional $100, you may have the inscription of your choice.

A one day shopping spree in any of the department stores in Park Forest South or Monee.

Use of a soundproof GSU classroom complete with four walls, a ceiling, an electrical outlet, an overhead projector, two pieces of chalk, one eraser and 30 eager students.

This coupon may be redeemed only on days when the door is locked and the room has no chairs.

One free copy of the new and revised BPS faculty self-evaluation form with a scale running from "outstanding" to "leaps tall buildings in a single bound."

An opportunity to participate as an honorary faculty adviser in an official GSU registration. This coupon may be redeemed only on the following dates: December 24, December 31, or July 3.

One module in which every registered student attends every session, completes all work on time, says "take your time in evaluating my work," and asks for additional reading material.

One GSU advisee who pleads with you for permission to take all of the following modules: Introductory Statistics; Intermediate Statistics; Finite Math; Matrices; Calculus; Advanced Probability; Linear Programming.

One GSU committee meeting where 90% of the members attend, the meeting starts on time, and all business is completed in 10 minutes.

One GSU advisee who tells you that you spend too much time in your office, are too available and provide too much service.

Free admission to the session of the GSU Human Sexuality Workshop when films are shown.

Use of this coupon is contingent upon demonstration of competency at the 95% level on the stated performance objectives for this module.

Free admission to the first 20 minute meeting of the BPS collegial assembly. This coupon cannot be redeemed before 1984.

A personally guided tour of the GSU polls conducted nightly at 7:30 by Charlie Olson. This coupon also entitles you to one vote if you find the polls open. Once you announce your BPS faculty affiliation, you will find this coupon expired at 7:00.

A 20 minute tape recording of the telephone squawk box located outside your office, in addition to a tape recording of the Washington Street El Stop at 5:00 on Friday afternoon, to be used in simulating the ambience of your GSU faculty office.

One informational-promotional piece from the Office of University Relations showing Don Herzog, Andy Petro, or Ralph Winston teaching a class of evening business students wearing suits.
