Culminating an intensive two day workshop for GSU administrators on student development and marketing was the appointment of a twelve person task force to study and make recommendations on current student recruitment problems facing the University. The group, composed of GSU’s six deans, four faculty appointed by Collegial Deans, and two students chosen by the dean of Student Services and Activities, will be chaired by Frank Borelli, Dean of Student Affairs and Services. In appointing the task force, Provost Curtis McCray charged them with the following tasks: 1) examine existing resources (environment) to determine adequacy and make recommendations based on these findings, 2) assess institutional programs, resources and services relative to their impact on retention, 3) examine the "market" (target populations), 4) prioritize needs to be addressed by the new Director of Recruitment, 5) with the Director of Recruitment establish the goals and objectives for the next 18 months, and 6) evaluate and provide information on the process of recruitment and the value of the endeavor. The task force was also asked to advise the search committee for the Director of Student Recruitment in its task of choosing among appropriate candidates.

The faculty meeting with the Provost originally scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 2, from 2:00-4:00 p.m. has been reset for Friday, Nov. 10, from 2:00-4:00 p.m. in the W.E.E. Conference Center.

FACULTY VOICE

RECITAL SET...
A faculty voice recital by bass-baritone Rudolf Strukoff will be held Sunday, November 12, at 4 p.m. in the GSU recital hall.
Rudolf Strukoff, CCS music professor, will be assisted by Donna Lee Strukoff, mezzo-soprano; Susan Schreiner, soprano; Marilyn Bourgeois, pianist; Bethe Hagens, violinist, and Joan Noven, cellist.
Rudolf Strukoff holds a Bachelor of Music Education from Andrews University in Michigan, an M. Music in voice and choral conducting, and a Ph.D. in voice, composition, and music literature from Michigan State University.

The annual governmental career information day at GSU is set for Monday, Dec. 4, from 2 to 7 p.m. Participants from various federal, state, and city agencies will be in the Hall of Governors to give information about employment with their organizations. The event is FREE and open to the public.
CREATIVE DRAMATICS for young people in grades 1 through 12 will again be offered weekly on Saturday beginning November 11 by GSU.

Under the direction of GSU students and staff, young people will investigate theatre games, exercises, and improvisational techniques.

Activities will be geared to the needs of each particular age group. In response to interest evidenced by members of the oldest age group, who have attended previously, their meetings will combine use of creative dramatic skills and techniques with a mini-theatre workshop. There will be opportunity to tentatively explore varied theatre skills such as make-up, costuming, sound production, pantomime, and characterization.

The Saturday sessions will culminate in an informal studio program presented by the younger groups and a Children's Theatre production for the public will be performed by the oldest group.

Enrollment will be limited in order to give each participant individual attention. Places will be filled on a "first-come, first-served" basis.

Interested parents or students may phone CCS at Ext. 2119.

FOR MUSIC TEACHERS . . . Area music teachers may attend without cost a "Teaching Elementary Music Methods" class Nov. 7 at GSU. The Silver Burdett teaching method will be presented by a lecture-demonstration by Carolyn Blevins at 7:30 p.m. in Room B-2205.

Two other classes will also be offered November 14 - "Orff Instruments," by Donna Strukoff, and November 21 - "Class Guitar," by Donald Gudac.

D I D Y O U K N O W . . . that six Chicago Heights youths, in conjunction with the Illinois Migrant Council, will be employed in a training program by GSU's bilingual-bicultural education area of emphasis. They will work six hours per day in various areas in HLD, including budgeting, filing, duplicating and typing, and hopefully gain some training in career education and English skills development. With their salaries paid by the Illinois Migrant Council, the six will continue work at GSU until December 8. The joint venture attempts to give the youth experience in an academic environment, encourage them to continue their education, and give broader experience in the world at work, according to Jesse Banda, Director of the Illinois Migrant Council of Chicago Heights, and Dr. Vinicio Reyes, Director of Bilingual-Bicultural Education at GSU. The bilingual-bicultural cultural curriculum at GSU serves the community by training teachers for the bilingual programs in the metropolitan Chicago area. In addition, it has two learning sites on Chicago's South Side. The program recently received another three-year grant. Approximately 80 students have graduated from the area since its 1975 inception.
