ATTENTION FACULTY!

One GSU faculty member will be selected to represent all faculty at the Tenth Anniversary Academic Convocation, Sunday, July 15. Interested faculty members are asked to submit a five to eight minute speech on the significance of the GSU experience or a similar topic. The papers will be reviewed by a five-member panel and one will be selected for delivery at the Convocation. Plans are to publish the best faculty papers in a commemorative booklet during the anniversary year. Papers should be submitted to the University Assembly office. The deadline is April 16. If there are any questions, contact Aida Shekib, University Assembly chairperson.

OPEN HEARINGS . . . on the proposal for academic reorganization at GSU have been scheduled to be held in Engbretson Hall: Tuesday, March 27, 9 a.m.-noon; Wednesday, March 28, 4-6 p.m.; Thursday, March 29, 6-8 p.m. The Thursday hearing may be cancelled if there is no need for it after the first two hearings. Copies of the proposal are available in the LRC for perusal by faculty and other interested parties.

If the Legislature approves Governor Thompson's fiscal 1980 budget proposal, GSU will be allotted $125,000 for construction purposes.

RAPE AND THE LAW . . . Problems of obtaining rape convictions in Illinois will be the topic of a free seminar/discussion at GSU Monday, April 9 at 7:30 in Engbretson Hall. For details call Paul Green, x2257.
THIRD WORLD EXCHANGE . . .

Scholars from across the country and abroad will gather at GSU's fifth annual Third World Conference, March 29-31, at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago. The Consul of the Republic of Liberia, the Ghanaian Ambassador to the U.S.A. and Mexico, and the Ambassador and Permanent Representative of Cuba to the United Nations will be among the speakers. The conference fees are $10 per person; $5 for students with I.D. Advance registration is advised. For details, call x2429 or x2530.

THE ALUMNI RELATIONS OFFICE . . . has expanded to accommodate all graduating students who must make it one of their stops on the pre-graduation check-out list. Ginni Burghardt is Director of Alumni Relations, which is located in University Relations on the third floor.

YOU CAN REGISTER NOW . . . for the Spring/Summer Trimester by taking advantage of the advance registration procedure through April 15. On-campus registration will be May 2-3 and July 2. The Spring/Summer schedule of classes and admissions bulletin is now being distributed.

SCULPTURE EXHIBIT . . .

The works of Marvin Howard, graduate student in sculpture, and Betty Ross, graduate student in sculpture/ceramics, can be seen in the visual arts gallery thru March 29. Hours are 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

THE SPEAKERS BUREAU . . . of GSU is addressing community groups. Call x2144 for the Speakers Bureau, located in the office of Community Services.

GSUings . . .

DAVID MATTESON (HLD) presenting "From Identity to Intimacy: It's Not a One-way Street" to the post-doctoral research program in adolescence at University of Chicago/Michael Reese, March 22 . . .

CONSTANCE SHORTER (HLD) making several presentations this month on her trip to Africa: to the fourth graders at Dogwood and Mohawk Schools in Park Forest, to the sixth through eighth graders at McKinley School in Harvey and to the Lions Club of Chicago Heights . . .

JOAN LEWIS (UR) attending the annual Inside Printing Seminar in Springfield, March 21-22 . . .

ANN GERHART and NORMAL PECORA (representing the Women's Resource Center) and LYNN STRAUSS and HARRIET GROSS (both of CCS) taping an interview for San Francisco station KAFM with representatives from the Soviet Women Exhibit on the role of women in this country. The taped program will be aired through the auspices of Laura X of the Berkeley Women's History Center . . .

HERMAN SIEVERING (EAS) presenting a seminar on the Environmental Management Program and related research to faculty and students in the Carnegie-Mellon University Engineering and Public Policy Department. He also consulted with the faculty regarding the development of an M.A. degree program analogous to GSU's Environmental Management degree program through EAS. By the way, Herm will be on sabbatical leave during Fall Trimester. If interested in renting his house August through December, contact him at x2498 . . .

RICH LAZARSKI (BO) was seen scouring the building, looking for his lost glasses and insisting he is not so bad off that he needs glasses to find his glasses.

LET OTHER GSUers KNOW . . . what you have done, are doing and plan to do. Send a note to Faze I, University Relations and share your interests and activities.

HAPPY NEWS...
"Mediocrity" is probably not a word to be found in the vocabulary of Marie Coats, secretary in the President's Office. When she graduated from high school, fifth in her class of 500 ten years ago, she decided she wanted to become a "very good" secretary. Surpassing that goal, Marie has become an excellent secretary. Her responsibilities at GSU include assisting the Executive Assistant to the President and the Assistant to the President/Affirmative Action Officer.

Working with the Affirmative Action Officer, Marie assists in the finalization of all professional personnel searches for GSU, making sure they are conducted according to applicable guidelines. She will be involved in the Word Processing Center which is being implemented in the President's Office on an experimental basis. The Center will speedily produce written materials in a final form through an automated system. Coming to GSU in November, 1975, Marie began as the receptionist in the President's Office with a Secretary III rating and moved to her present Secretary IV Steno position July, 1977.

Marie enjoys performing tasks well. "I believe we should all have high standards for the quality of our work," she stated. Always striving to improve, Marie is continuing her education in secretarial science at Prairie State College. If all goes according to plan, she will be enrolled as a GSU student-at-large in the Spring/Summer Trimester. Her present goal is to prepare for a career in business administration. She finds business administration fascinating and has decided to go "as far as possible" in that field. Although she has never really given any thought to starting a business of her own, if questioned, she would tell you that a business she would enjoy would be management training.

Marie grew up in LaGrange, a western suburb of Chicago, and excelled in track and field competition--breaking the school records in all events except the javelin throw. "I was a tomboy for about 11 years and with six brothers, what would you expect?" Marie mused. She also has two sisters, one working on her law degree after having been in real estate.

Marie has had a variety of employment experiences--including teletype operator, clerk typist, and secretary in the Title VII Program with a school district. Spending almost three years with the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad, she worked in both the claims department and the ICG law office. She describes all of her employment ventures as good learning experiences which aided her in sharpening different skills.

Residents of Park Forest South, Marie and her husband Curtis have an eight-year-old daughter, Christine. Curtis, a senior program analyst with Johnson and Johnson, is a student at GSU and is constantly involved in civic activities in the area. He is external vice president of the PFS Jaycees and on the PFS Commission. Christine, a third-grader at Trinity Lutheran, has been reading backwards and forwards since she was three. Marie describes her as an aggressive individual with a mind of her own. Christine likes gymnastics and Marie doesn't hesitate to use her own athletic abilities to help her become more skilled.
