Care-for-Dying Seminar at GSU

GSU and Hospice Suburban South will co-sponsor a two-day conference on "Hospice: An Alternative Way to Care for the Dying" at the Park Forest South campus on November 6-7.

While the conference is available for college credit to professionals and students in the field, it is designed also to be relevant to volunteers, those facing death and their families.

Topics include, among others: "Models of Hospice Care," a panel discussion; "Pain Control and Use of Medication in Hospice Patients;" and "Affectional Needs of the Patient and Family." In addition, there will be a workshop on listening skills entitled "I'm Dying: Who Hears Me?" Other sessions include "What It Is Like to Live with Cancer. . .", "The Role of the Volunteer . . .".

Joan Coogan and Tom Lydon, of Hospice Suburban South, will be among the presenters. Others include Audrey Gordon, Stritch School of Medicine and community professor at GSU, as well as representatives from Little Company of Mary Hospital, Evergreen Park, and University of Illinois College of Pharmacy. Beth Walston and Kay Dowell, of the Illinois Department of Public Health who have conducted more than 100 death education seminars using the holistic approach to training will also be among the presenters. Walston, director of education for the Illinois Department of Public Health, has served on the state governmental task force to develop hospice guidelines. Dowell, staff development specialist, has completed studies of the models of hospice programming in the U.S., England and Central America.

One of the highlights of the conference will be the presentation by Audrey Gordon, a nationally recognized authority on the subjects of death and dying. An educator and consultant, Gordon is co-author of the book "They Need To Know: How To Teach Children About Death." She also was a contributing editor for Elizabeth Kubler-Ross's book, "Death, The Final Stage of Growth." She has authored many articles in professional and consumer magazines. She is an instructor at Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine, and she has taught at Oakton Community College as well as at GSU.

Sessions will be from 6:30 to 10:00 p.m. on Friday and 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Saturday.

Ann Fry (SHP) and Joyce Bluth and Mildred Laken of the SHP staff, are coordinating the conference.

Registrations may be made until November 2. For further information about college credit call Sharon Green, Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, at (312) 534-5000, Ext. 2549●

GSU Sculpture Featured in Peoria Exhibit

Several artists represented in the Nathan Manilow Sculpture Park at GSU and some of the works which grace the campus were featured recently in a special exhibit called "30 Years of Public Sculpture in Illinois," on view in the Lakeview Museum of Arts and Sciences in Peoria.

The show consisted of photographs, slides, or models of works by John Payne (CAS), and Richard Hunt, Mary Miss, John Henry, Jerald Jacquard, Jerry Pert, Edvins Strautmanis and Jene Highstein.

Specific works from GSU's Manilow collection which were spotlighted in the Peoria show through October 18 and included Payne's "Forms in Blue," "Mock I" and "Mock II;" Henry's giant "Illinois Landscape No 5" (featured on the nameplate of GSU Landscapes): Strautmanis' graceful "Phoenix;" and the recently completed Mary Miss environmental sculpture, "Field Rotation"●

Educational Travel to China

Christmas in China can be turned from a fantasy into a reality. A 17-day educational travel package titled "Christmas in China" is being offered through the College of Human Learning and Development.

Departing San Francisco on December 19 and returning on January 4, a maximum of 30 persons will be led by Dr. Michael Lewis (HLD), a veteran China traveler and human development expert. The total educational experience will include travel, visitations, sightseeing and discussions. Participants can earn 6 hours of undergraduate or graduate credit for two University courses: Community Counseling and Human Service Systems. Lewis' most recent visit to China was in 1977 as part of a study group invited by the Peoples Republic of China.

A nonrefundable deposit of $100 is required by October 31. For further details on registration, cost and schedules, contact Lewis, Ext. 2526, or Joyce Newman in Special Programs, Ext. 2121●

Real Estate Seminar Set

GSU will present a one-day real estate financial seminar on using a modern slimline calculator on Friday, November 20, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The seminar offers techniques helpful to residential salespersons, investors, owners and others who must be able to execute fast financial calculations. In one day, those attending will learn how to use the T.I. Business Analyst II to calculate mortgage payments, mortgage balances, etc. as well as amortization schedules.

Participants must bring their own Texas Instrument Business Analyst II calculator. The seminar will be conducted by Frank A. Bella, C.C.I.M., a broker for over twenty years and a senior instructor on the faculty of the Realtors National Marketing Institute. Bella has also taught real estate investment analysis classes at Prairie State College and GSU.

For more information contact Peg Donohue, Special Programs, Ext. 2549●

Gavin Brown, (right), coordinator of real estate studies at GSU, accepts a gift to the University of periodicals, monographs and books on real estate evaluation given by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers (AIREA). The gift, valued in excess of $300, was presented on behalf of the Institute by Steve Cummins (left), Park Forest, staff vice president of AIREA, and Alvin L. Wagner, Jr., Flossmoor real estate appraiser and member of the AIREA public relations committee. Both Cummins and Wagner also are members of the Real Estate Advisory Committee of the GSU College of Business and Public Administration.

SA Coffeehouse

Aileen & Elkin Thomas, this month's Coffeehouse attraction, have toured with such well-known folk-rock and country stars as Charlie Daniels, Bob Johnston, and Ron Cornelius. They toured Canada, America, and Europe in 1970.

Elkin's song, "Joli Girl," was recorded in 1970 by Marty Robbins, who had a top ten country hit with it.

After 1970 Aileen and Elkin took a 4½ year leave of absence to live on a boat. These peaceful years produced most of the songs that they do and the style in which they present them. Elkin plays 6 and 12-string guitars and 5-string banjo, and Aileen plays bass. Their desire to share the joy they have both in their music and in their lifestyle has brought them back before the public again ●

Stress Workshop

Are you aware that you have become up-tight, irritable and "out-of-sorts"? Then you are probably suffering from stress. Stress and its symptoms are common problems that can interfere with normal daily activities.

Causes, prevention and treatment of stress will be the topic of the November 7, workshop offered free to the GSU community through the Office of Student Development. The workshop will use both cognitive and experiential approaches to identify the stressors in your life and investigate ways to modify and control them. Techniques for alleviating stress will be demonstrated and creative coping strategies will be generated.

The workshop presentors are Mary Jo Jahn, assistant director for the Institute of Psychological Services at the Illinois Institute of Technology and Susan F. Brown, counselor in the Office of Student Development at GSU. The workshop is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Saturday, November 7. For more information call Ext. 2413, 2142 or 2431.

Plan Benefit for Bosco Simic

A benefit to be held November 11 has been organized in honor of Bosco "Bob" Simic, the associate dean at Moraine Valley Community College, recently convicted of espionage in Yugoslavia.

According to Bob Van Raes, assistant to the MVCC president, College employees are working together to show support for their co-worker. What is made above the cost of presenting the benefit, consisting of a dinner, fashion show and entertainment at the Sabre Room in Hickory Hills, will go to Mrs. Zlata Simic, Bosco's wife.

Among those who will represent their employees and help organize the benefit at MVCC is Student Activities Director Diane Stormer-Johnson, wife of Ken Johnson (A&SR).

For further information and tickets, contact Ken Johnson, Ext. 2518.

Planning Consultant Here

The Office of Institutional Research and Planning announces that Dr. Frank Terry, consultant for GSU's Title III Grant on University Planning, will be available in Dr. Virginio Plucci's office on October 26, 1981 from 3 - 4 p.m. to talk with anyone who is interested regarding the Planning Model at GSU.

There will be an additional Planning Committee Meeting on October 28, 1981, 9:30 a.m. in the Administrative Conference Room.

Special Programs Party

GSU faculty and staff are invited to what has been billed as "Special Programs First (and probably only) Annual Octoberfest Touch Football End of Fall Registration Party." This special event takes place at Krabbe House Friday, October 30, from 4:30 p.m. til ...?

The word is: if you don't want to play touch football, well ... just come and touch. The cost, which includes hot dogs, beer and/or soft drinks, is $3.00.

RSVP Linda (Krause) Maurer by Wednesday, October 28 with payment in person or internal mail only.

Open House for Mary Jane Berndt

The GSU faculty and staff are invited to an Open House for Mary Jane Berndt (ICC), who is moving to the state of Washington. Refreshments will be served in the ICC on Thursday, October 29 from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. Please join us in wishing Mary Jane and her family a bright new life in their new home.

Welcome back to CHRIS TOLBERTT (BO) recovered from surgery. She returned to her job, Monday, October 19.

Congratulations to ROSE MOST (BO) and her husband Bill on the birth of their 6 pound 15½ ounce daughter, Rebecca Marie, born Monday, October 19 at Riverside Medical Center, Kankakee. Rose worked a full day Friday, the 16th.

Mini-Grants

Joyce S. Kennedy, Occupational Education Project Coordinator announces a mini-grant series for projects related to career and occupational education. Funds for mini-grant projects are to be used by June 30, 1982. GSU faculty, administrators, and staff interested in submitting an application for a mini-grant activity related to career or occupational education should contact the Occupational Education Project Office at Extension 2589 for further information and application. The deadline date for the submission of applications is November 18, 1981.

Editor's Note:

There has been some confusion as to the nature of the new "Inscapes." This insert is the personal newsletter for faculty and staff and is meant to be for internal publication only. If you have news of interest to the GSU community, such as weddings, illnesses, births, etc., or if your group, such as a bowling team or a society is having a get-together or has won recognition, then send that information on to Betty Kott, Editor, Landscapes, c/o University Relations. We need your cooperation in getting the news in! Remember, deadline for both Landscapes and Inscapes is Tuesday noon.
