PLANNING FOR THE GUIDE PROJECT'S 4TH YEAR

- GUIDE ESI Goals, Suggestions, and Reminders: The next few months are crucial for the GUIDE collaboration. To keep it going, we need to apply for funding and up our productivity (course completion, funding applications, peer-reviewed papers, presentations, student mentoring, etc.). All ESIs have release time over the next academic year – prioritize your GUIDE work products to help us keep this great partnership going.
  - 1) Get a work product out this summer – follow through, then start something new!
Hey, that rhymes!
  - 2) Plan for and arrange a Think Tank for early fall if you have not yet done one.
  - 3) If you have done a Think Tank, send your participants an update, telling them how the input you received has impacted your project.
  - 4) Attend the Summer Research Experience Symposium and encourage the six GSU students to connect with you in the fall. Begin intentional mentoring and learn about how this can be done within the Mentoring Triad model.
  - 5) Send Cathy B ideas for tools, resources, activities, events, courses and workshops that will advance your research productivity.
  - 6) Think about how to work your cancer health disparities knowledge into your teaching.
  - 7) Update your biosketch.
  - 8) Identify the best potential funding sources and deadlines for your project. File an Intent to Submit form with OSPR.
