String Quartet Presents Second Free Concert of Year

The GSU String Quartet will present its second free public concert of the 1982-83 season on Sunday, February 6, at 3:30 pm in the Music Recital Hall at the Park Forest South campus.

Featured works on the program are "Quartet No. 1 in C Major," Op. 49, by Shostakovich; "String Quartet No. 4," Op. 18, by Beethoven; and "Quartet in F," Op. 96, by Dvorak.

This will be the first concert in which Raya Kodesh-Beatty occupies the first violin chair throughout. The Russian-born and trained violinist made her debut with the Quartet during its first concert of this season last October. She currently is concertmaster of the Orchestra of Illinois and was assistant concertmaster of the Lyric Opera of Chicago Orchestra during its recent season.

The three veteran members of the ensemble are Elmer Rosen, second violin; Robert Shamo, viola; and Alan Rostoker, cello.

Prior to its campus concert, the Quartet played some of the same music for the residents of Thornwood House Apartments in Richton Park. On January 19, they also performed at the monthly dinner meeting of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities, which was hosted by GSU. These public concerts were made possible in part through a grant from Wilkes, Besterfield & Co., Ltd., Olympia Fields public accounting firm.

The GSU String Quartet. Members, from left, are: Raya Kodesh-Beatty, first violin, Elmer Rosen, second violin, Robert Shamo, viola, and Alan Rostoker, cello. They will be performing in the Music Recital Hall at GSU on February 6 at 3:30 pm. Admission to the concert is free.

GSU's Cable Talk Show

GSU Views is a University (ICC) produced talk show, which features President Leo Goodman-Malamuth II as host and a variety of guests discussing a wide range of topics.

As a service to readers of Landscapes, the times, channels and topics of these programs will be listed in the Events section. Currently showing on the cable channels are:

"Dickens" - Daniel Bernd (CAS)

"Commuter Couples and Family Life" - Harriet Gross (CAS)

"U.S. Economy and Taxation" - Paul O'Brien (BPA)

"Alcoholism" - Ann Fry and Linda Jones (SHP)

"Higher Education in the United States and Illinois" - George E. Ayers, President, Chicago State University

"Quality Control and U.S. Manufacturing" - Marilyn and Robert Hart (BPA)

SHP Grad Students in National Competition

Four GSU graduate students in the Health Services Administration program, competing in section B of the 3rd Hospital Financial Management and Regulation Computer Simulation Game have won their division contest. They have earned an all-expense paid trip to the national finals to be held March 1-4 at the Chicago Regency Hyatt Hotel where the American College of Hospital Administrators, the sponsoring organization, is holding its Congress on Administration.

The GSU team, competing against the University of Michigan, the University of Chicago, Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio, Trinity University, San Antonio, Texas and Army-Baylor, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, solved by computer the financial, regulatory, inflationary and other administrative problems of a fictitious community hospital. Such concerns typically face today's hospital administrators. The GSU teams' solutions were sent to the University of California, Berkeley for evaluation and proved to be the winning set in their division.

The students, Jack Weiss, currently in Buffalo, N.Y.; Diane Barowsky, Oak Forest, a full-time student; Candace St. Lawrence, Chicago, Mercy Hospital and Medical Center; Lynda Reese, Harvey, St. Mary's Hospital of Gary, along with their instructor in the games, Dr. Brian Malec, SHP professor of Health Services Administration will compete against the winners of "A" and "C" divisions for the first position at the March convention.

"This puts GSU in the national spotlight," said Malec, "We're competing in the finals with the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the University of Arizona; even if we lose, we're still third place winners."

The computer simulation game was developed by the University of California at Berkeley and the Western Network for Education in Health Administration. The cost is underwritten by Sherwood Medical, a Brunswick Company.

Township Officials to Discuss Issues, Problems, Solutions.

Township officials throughout the Western Illinois region will meet at the Red Ox, 1302 W. Jackson, Macomb, on Saturday, February 12, to discuss local, state and federal issues and their impact on township government.

The occasion is the third annual Spring Training Seminar cosponsored by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), Institute for Public Policy and Administration (IPPA) of GSU and Township Officials of Illinois (TOI). The all-day meeting, the first of five to be held around the state in the next three months, is in conjunction with Spoon River and Carl Sandburg Community College District and Community Information and Education Service.

Among those who will participate at the Macomb meeting are State Senator Laura Kent (R-48th) and Representatives Judy Koehler (R-89th) and Clarence E. Neff (R-95th). Panelists from DCCA are Richard Rynke and William Tanker, as well as David J. Regner, former state senator and

GSU to Sponsor Paul Robeson Seminar

As part of Black History month, CAS will conduct a two-day workshop celebrating the accomplishments of Paul Robeson, on February 18 and 19 at the Hyde Park Hilton, 4800 South Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.

Gil Noble, of WABC-TV, New York, will deliver the keynote address at 8 pm on February 18. He will speak on "Paul Robeson: The Genius of Man." Noble is a producer, correspondent, and host of WABC-TV's "Like It Is." He is also the recipient of six Emmy Awards for original documentaries on Paul Robeson, Martin Luther King, Jr., Fannie Lou Hamer, Duke Ellington, Frederick Douglass and Malcolm X.

On February 19 beginning at 9:30 am, there will be a presentation of three Paul Robeson films: "The Tallest Tree in the Forest," "Song of Freedom," and "Tales of Manhattan." Dr. Roger Oden, chair of the Division of Intercultural Studies, CAS will lead a roundtable discussion on Robeson and his influence.

Students can earn two hours of undergraduate or graduate credit. Advance reservation is recommended.

president of David J. Regner & Associates, financial consultant, of Mt. Prospect.

According to Dr. Paul Green (BPA) director of IPPA and a township official, this is the most ambitious undertaking since the township officials training program began. "By holding similar seminars in five regions throughout the state, any township official who wishes to attend should be able to do so conveniently. We anticipate topping last year's total attendance of 650. We will show state legislators and members of the Governor's administration that township government in Illinois not only is doing well, but that it also is the most active branch of government in the state," he declares.

To assure a place, township officials are requested to register at least ten days in advance of the desired session.

For further information, contact Beverly Goldberg, at extension 2267 or 2241.

Exporting Seminar for Small, Medium Firms

"Seminar of International Trade" has been scheduled by GSU for Friday, February 11 from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm at the Holiday Inn of Harvey, 17100 S. Halsted St. Practical information about international operations and exporting for small and medium size firms will be the main thrust of the seminar.

"Although key U.S. firms are involved in international operations and exporting, the medium and small size firms are not visible in the international arena," observes Dr. Jordan Tsolakides, BPA, professor of business administration and seminar coordinator. "This seminar will provide the opportunity to hear speakers from business, government and education present expert information and insights into foreign markets," he states.

Among the topics to be discussed are: the Japanese experience, Export

Trading Company Act, exports and domestic marketing, freight and forwarding, sources of finance, licenses and regulations and government services available.

Presenters include Michael Simon, assistant director of the U.S. Department of Commerce; Harold Larson, Green Companies International; Bert C. Faulhaber, director of Institute of Transnational Business at Ball State University, and Peter Hughes, president of J. P. Hughes Co.

Also on the program are R. Ronald Guerriero, president, World Trade Group, First National Bank of Boston; Toni Vazquez, international marketing consultant in the Illinois Department of Commerce; Lyric Hughes, president of Women in International Trade; and Russell Hofmann, second vice president, Continental Illinois National Bank. Representatives from the Australian, Japanese, Columbian and Romanian consulates also will be present.

The program is sponsored by the GSU College of Business and Public Administration, the U.S. Department of Commerce, Women in International Trade and the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Cost of the seminar is $50, including lunch. Registration starts at 8 am at the Holiday Inn. For further information, contact Peg Donohue, Office of Special Programs and Continuing Education, extension 2549.

BOG Meets at GSU

The monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities convened at GSU January 20 with the state of the economy and its effect on Illinois higher education the major issue.

Of special interest to GSU is the fact that the BOG's number one priority for capital expenditures is the repair to the exterior of GSU's main building. In recent years the Cor-Ten Steel facade has undergone corrosive damage and weakening by wind and weather.

The need for tax reform was discussed. Given the serious financial shortfall expected in Illinois, the governor has suggested an increase in the state liquor tax and an acceleration in the collection of public utility taxes. Governor Thompson has also requested the universities to accept a 2 percent reduction in their budgets immediately, with an additional callback of Fiscal Year '83 funds likely. Further, the BOG schools, as well as other institutions of higher education in Illinois are considering contingency plans for cuts of 2-4-6 and 8 percent for FY '84.

The issues and problems facing higher education in Illinois and GSU in particular indicate that all GSUers will want to be listening on February 8 when Governor Thompson gives his State of the State address, especially in light of recent court decisions enjoining the FY '83 cuts already made by the governor.

Haiti-Jamaica Educational Trip

A comparative study of the Afro-French, Hispanic and Commonwealth Caribbean cultures will be offered by GSU through a lecture/field trip to Haiti and Jamaica from April 24 through May 1.

New Look for Hall of Governors

As students enter GSU's Hall of Governors, they will be seeing a transformed Information Center and a refurbished main elevator, the result of recent alterations and repair.
