Re: Dr. Reinhold Hill

On July 1, 2016, Dr. Reinhold Hill, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, will become the Vice Chancellor and Dean of Indiana University-Purdue University Columbus (IUPUC). The position is equivalent to that of campus chief executive officer. Please join me in congratulating him.

Reinhold will bring to IUPUC the incomparable experience of guiding GSU's College of Arts and Sciences through its most transformative period of growth and development.

Let's take a moment to celebrate Reinhold's many accomplishments. Over the past five years he has diversified the University, brought learner-centered teaching to his college, and tailored the Center for Performing Arts' productions to our local community. He has reshaped CAS. He played an instrumental role in increasing enrollment and expanding CAS's offerings as we welcomed our first freshman class.

As a leader of the Lower Division Steering Committee, he coordinated a cross-divisional committee that has implemented the many features of the university's transformation. Through his work with Enrollment Management, Reinhold has contributed to the overall growth of GSU. He has brought special talents to the recruitment and retention of international students.

We are all familiar with Reinhold's dedication, so we can be assured that he will continue his extraordinary service as Dean until his date of departure.
