PRESIDENTIAL SEARCH NARROWS... The University Presidential Search Committee has established an interview schedule of seven candidates for president of GSU. These final candidates were presented by the BOG Search Committee after an initial screening of credentials by both committees. One candidate, whose name was not forwarded by the Campus Committee, was added by the BOG Committee since he was excluded initially through a particular interpretation of selection criteria. The Campus Committee will solicit advisory recommendations from the GSU community on a form to be distributed at the time of the interviews, and will recommend no less than five candidates to the BOG Committee by June 7. According to the procedures established by the BOG, the BOG Committee will then select three to be interviewed by the entire Board of Governors who will choose a president. Interviews will be conducted at GSU May 14-June 4. Candidates are: David G. Barry, Dean, Graduate School, Univ. of Toledo, Toledo, Ohio; William H. Capitan, Acting President, West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va.; Leo Goodman-Malamuth, Vice President for Academic Affairs, California State Univ., Long Beach, Ca.; Virginio L. Piucci, Vice President of Research and Innovation, Governors State Univ., Park Forest South, Ill.; Donald Robinson, Dean, College of Education, Oklahoma State Univ., Stillwater, Ok.; John H. Strange, Dean, College of Public and Community Service, Univ. of Massachusetts, Boston, Mass.; Charles Vevier, Executive Vice President, College of Medicine and Dentistry, Newark, N.J. See Page 4-complete interview schedule.

THE NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION...is seeking faculty members, particularly women, to serve on panels reviewing proposals submitted under NSF's new "Women in Science" program. Potential reviewers are considered on the basis of expertise in a field supported by NSF, knowledge of educational process, and awareness of employment opportunities in science. Panelists will be required to attend a two-day meeting to evaluate program proposals. Travel and subsistence costs will be reimbursed according to NSF guidelines. The goal of the "Women in Science" program is the development of methods which will encourage women to enter scientific careers. Review candidates should submit an NSF Form 428 for next year's program. Forms and further information can be obtained from: Ms. M. Joan Callanan, program manager, Women in Science, NSF, Washington, D.C. 20550.

UNIVERSITY MAILING PRIVILEGES IN JEOPARDY...The American Ass'n. of State Colleges & Universities reports that the U.S. Postal Service is attempting to end second-class mailing privileges for college catalogs and bulletins. This move could cost many institutions tens of thousands of dollars a year or more. The House has passed legislation which would protect second-class mailing rights for colleges. AASCU is informed that the Senate Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, headed by Senator Gale McGee (WY) will adopt similar legislation as part of omnibus postal legislation on its way to the floor. More than 75 Senators have urged Senator McGee to take this step.

ATTENTION CIVIL SERVICE...Human Services is now reconstituting the Civil Service Affairs Subcomm. which was formed to serve the interests of CS personnel not covered by collective bargaining. Needed are: 10 exempt CS, 5 non-exempt CS, 1 faculty, 1 support, 1 student, 1 community. If interested in serving, contact Celia Ann Toll, ext. 2511, or Sue Burrington, ext. 2223.

GUATEMALA: GSU DISASTER REPORT...A GSU communications team has returned with mass media reports on the Guatemala reconstruction effort. Twelve university staff members and students spent two weeks, living in the highlands and other parts of Guatemala where they documented in film, photographs, audio tapes, and writings the reconstruction efforts and effects of the worst natural disaster ever to occur in Central America. It is hoped that their work will provide material for a major television program, as well as radio and written pieces across the US and other countries to generate money for the reconstruction effort. The earthquake killed 23,000 people in only 38 seconds. Most victims were indians living in the highlands, killed when their adobe houses were reduced to dust in seconds. A major contact for the group was Dr. Carroll Behrhorst, an American doctor who has lived in Guatemala for 18 years training indians in the villages to provide basic medical care for their own people. The doctor wrote letters of introduction for the team enabling them to enter the villages and talk to the local people. The GSU team was continually impressed with the acceptance of the indians--having lost family, friends and neighbors (a mass grave in one village held 400 bodies), the survivors are quietly going about rebuilding and repairing what they can--life goes on, not as before, but it goes on. Contributions for the reconstruction effort may be made by contacting Mel Muchnik (CCS), ext. 2448, or Dick Burd (ICC), ext. 2315.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Brodner, but I'm afraid there's no way we can legally change you from a Libra to a Sagittarius."
