"Of the Good in you I can speak,
but not of the Evil, for what is Evil but good - tortured by its own hunger and thirst? When good is hungry, it seeks food, even in dark caves, and when it thirsts, it drinks even of dead water."

FY77 SALARY INCREASES DELAYED...The final figure for FY77 appropriations has not been decided as of this date. A $10,449.6 million appropriation was passed by legislature compared to the Governor's budget of $10,115.5 million. The Governor is expected to reduce bills which exceed his budget. The amount and method of distribution of salary increases is directly dependent on the level of the FY77 appropriation. Because of the various time requirements, FY77 salary increases for non-negotiated civil service employees will not be reflected in the July 16 paychecks. Such increases will be implemented as soon as possible after the FY77 appropriation is signed into law and will be retroactive to July 1. Increases for professional employees who are outside the scope of the potential academic bargaining unit will be implemented as soon as possible after the FY77 appropriation is signed into law and will be effective as of September 1.

BOG NEWS...Pres. Engbretson and two other presidents leaving the BOG system, Fite and Mullen, were honored at a Board of Governors dinner held June 16. Also feted was outgoing Board member Jeffrey Ladd...and the appointment of Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth as president of GSU was approved by the BOG at its June meeting in Springfield. In approving the appointment, Board members lauded Dr. Engbretson for his "superb job at GSU" and expressed confidence that Dr. Goodman-Malamuth would "continue this remarkable progress."

QA ON CS...Q. What happens if two employees have the same amount of seniority?

A. If two or more employees have the same seniority, their names are placed on the seniority list in the order of their scores in the examination for the position; i.e., the person with the highest score first, next highest score second, and continuing in descending order of their scores. Seniority between employees who receive the same score on the examination shall be determined in accordance with years of service at the place of employment, then in accordance with the date of application for employment.

GSU ASSOCIATES HONORED...Sixty-three guests attended a dinner sponsored by the Governors State University Foundation at which eight members were honored. Attending the dinner also was Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth, GSU's president-elect, who welcomed the Associates and thanked them for their generous contribution, remarking that their generosity would provide a "margin of excellence" for the university. Members who were honored for a total contribution of $8,500 were: ARS Builders (Ronald G. Stillman), Bank of Homewood (Robert Goodson), Bank of Park Forest (Martin Ganzel), Cheker Oil (Richard Small), Johnson & Johnson (L.M. Larssonneur), Matteson-Richton Bank (James Lund), Pasquinelli Construction (Anthony and Bruno Pasquinelli), Portion Packaging (Peter Morris). Following dinner the guests attended a performance of Christopher Fry's "A Phoenix Too Frequent" presented by GSU's Drama Theatre.

AREA ALUMNI ACHIEVERS...Four GSU alumni have recently been named to key positions in the area. Sylvia Dennen, named Village Manager of Richton Park, is the only woman serving as a city or village manager in Illinois and only the second woman to hold such a position in the state's history. Richard Warrington, named assistant city planner for Chicago Heights, started with the planning department as a student intern while at GSU, where he obtained his degree in planning. Zaheeruddin A. Quraishi has been appointed an epidemiologist at South Suburban Hospital. He received his M.A. in health services administration at GSU. Joseph M. James has been appointed assistant principal at Thornton Township by the School Board of District 205. He received a M.A. in counseling and guidance from GSU.

STOP PROCRASTINATING...A PSYCHOLOGIST TELLS HOW

Verbal praise and point-system rewards motivate college students to attend their classes and improve their test scores.

That was the result of two experiments in behavior modification techniques by Psychologist Paul Lu at Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee.

The students were members of self-pacing, independent study courses, not requiring formal attendance. Procrastination, an inevitable phenomenon of such programs, the experiments showed, was reduced by verbally praising a student's attendance, and offering grade-point rewards for early completion of projects.

In Lu's first experiment, 48 introductory psychology students were divided into two experiment and two control groups, and given a test. The experimental group was warmly welcomed and reminded several times to attend sessions. The other group was given only normal instructions.

Procrastination decreased from close to 100 percent to about 20 percent in the experimental group. The control groups showed little change. Whenever verbal reinforcements were stopped in the experimental group, their attendance rate decreased.

In the second experiment, 55 students were told they could earn 10 extra points toward their final grade if they passed part of the course at the fourth week. At the eighth week, the same offer was made. Procrastination was again reduced.

Lu: Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, TN 37742. His paper was presented at the third national conference on personalized instruction in Washington.
