A real patriot is the fellow who gets a parking ticket and rejoices that the system works.

Vol. 6, No. 6

PARKING LOT FACE LIFT...During the next few weeks all parking lots will be resealed and restriped. This work is necessary to prevent damage to the asphalt base from this winter's freeze/thaw cycles. Water seeps into the cracks, freezes, enlarges the crack, thaws, seeps, freezes, etc. Sealing this fall will prevent costly patching next spring. Inconvenience will be kept to a minimum by work being done only on Fridays and weekends. To counteract the problem of drivers hitting the coin/card boxes the boxes will be moved back from the curb an additional 5" and a post placed next to the front edge. This change will help keep the gates in good working order and decrease the inconvenience caused by gate malfunctions. Lot 'D' (furthest west) will be converted to a free entry/pay exit lot to provide parking for those who do not have the correct change. Drivers can park, then obtain change from the cashier, Bookstore, food service or dollar bill changer in front of the LRC, then pay on their way out. At the same time the lot is converted, a two hour parking limit will be enforced in the visitor lot to prohibit use by employees and students. It is to be used by visitors only. Suggestions for further improvement will be appreciated and may be forwarded to Dick Struthers, ext. 2175.

AFSCME LOCAL #2770: There will be a general membership meeting Friday, Oct. 8 from 3-4 p.m. in A1102 regarding negotiated issues of parking and wages.

Techniques used will focus on portfolios but will include discussion of other types of assessments and activities of other institutions. Dr. Stanley is Director of Assessment and Coordinator of the BOG program. Robert Press is Director of the University Without Walls program. Both professors have done extensive work on faculty development with Co-operative Assessment of Experiential Learning, a national organization. Stormer is a member of the Civil Air Patrol Search and Rescue Squadron that operates out of Haedtler Field. Searching for the plane, a Cessna Cardinal, single engine, Stormer spotted the wreckage in a cornfield, only 100 yards from Interstate 57. The pilot was dead and the girl trapped inside the wreckage. She is listed now in serious condition. Prior to this mission, Stormer and William Wickersham (BPO) had participated in a search near Iron Mountain, Mich., where a wreckage of a plane was discovered that had been missing for 6½ years in the rugged forest country of northern Michigan. William Wickersham is Commander of the CAP Search & Rescue Squadron which is the Number One Squad in the State of Illinois. The group, consisting of 35 members, has 21 planes. They meet weekly for training in weather, instruments, basic safety procedures and search and rescue methods.

CONCERNING SWINE FLU...It has been announced that GSU will not be giving Swine Flu inoculations as previously planned. The Chicago area, which began dispensing treatment this week has only been allotted one and one-half million doses and these have been designated for senior citizens, the chronically ill, and members of the essential services such as fire and police. If dosage should become available in the future the GSU community will be notified.

FAZE FOCUS: MARCY SMITH

"If You Ever Need a Friend..." Marcy Smith, Head Health Service Nurse, is the one to see.

Ailing GSUers have learned that finding their way to the Health Service Office brings not only relief from minor complaints and temporary illness but also a comforting word and a listening ear. Marcy hands out large doses of care and compassion as well as measured amounts of aspirin and ointments.

Looking for "something different," Marcy came to GSU two years ago after a period of semi-retirement. She had worked previously at St. James Hospital and Oak Forest Hospital. She enjoys GSU where she has the opportunity to serve a broad variety of people.

Marcy's future plans include furthering her education, particularly in the area of counseling, in which she is now taking classes.

"I feel that many ills are corrected with the emotional state, and I feel myself continually drawn towards helping a patient in that area," she said. "Many times I see that a patient is troubled with far more than the physical complaint that brought them to me, and I want to be able to offer real help to them."

Marcy resides in Park Forest with her husband Don and two sons.

DID YOU KNOW...A recent survey of entering freshmen indicates a declining interest in humanities and increasing preference for "applied" fields of study, a trend particularly noticeable among young women, more of whom are selecting traditionally male career fields. According to the 10th annual survey of entering freshmen conducted by UCLA and the American Council on Education, one woman in six (16.9 percent) is planning a career in business, engineering, law, or medicine. This is a two percent increase over 1974 and a nearly threefold increase since 1966, when only 5.9 percent of entering freshmen women planned such careers. Women also show an increasing interest in advanced degrees; 16.6 percent plan on taking post-graduate work as compared with 9.1 percent in 1971.

ALUMNA ON THE GO...Julie David, receiving a master's degree in health education from GSU, is headed for the Peace Corps in the Philippines where she will organize public health programs and deliver primary medical and health care during a two-year stay. While there, she will be living as closely as she can to the standards of the people she will be helping, by living in a grass hut with no electricity or running water.

CHAUVINISM IN OUR MIDST?...OR HE/HIM APPOLOGIZES TO SHE/HER...The Faze I staff extends their sincere apologies to the larger half of its student population for the gross oversight when publishing "What is a Student?" in the Sept. 24 issue. All references to students as he or him are obviously telling only half the story.

"Yes, I'm a 'lady' lawyer. I understand you're a 'gentleman' dentist."
