September 2, 1977

Vol. 6, No. 51

UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY NEWS...The University Assembly is once again seeking volunteers to form its six standing committees for the coming year. All members of the GSU community--faculty, support, Civil Service, students, and community are urged to participate in the University's policy-making process. Please complete the applications sent to you this week and return to the University Assembly office by 5 P.M. Friday, Sept. 16. The University Assembly Executive committee will review all applications and select representatives for each committee. The committees will be composed of reps for each constituent group. The six standing committees are: Educational Policies and Programs, Fiscal Resources, Future, Governance, Human Services, Physical Resources.

EXTERNAL DOCTORATES KICK OFF...Representatives of Nova University, Fort Lauderdale, Florida and Union Graduate School, Antioch, Ohio will be at GSU Saturday, Oct. 8 to kick off the 1977-78 alumni programs. Presentations on their external doctoral programs, followed by a question/answer session have been scheduled for 9 a.m. in room B1501. Brochures, pamphlets, and applications for both fully accredited programs will be available. The seminar, sponsored by the Alumni Assoc., is open to all GSU graduates and the general public on a reservation basis. For more information, call the GSU Alumni office, ext. 2419.

INAUGURATION REMINDER...On Friday, October 7, the University community will celebrate the inauguration of Leo Goodman-Malamuth as the second President of Governors State University. Plans include an Academic Convocation to run from 9:30 - 11:00 a.m. Four faculty members will present ten-minute critical reactions to Daniel Bell's "The Revolution of Rising Entitlements" with a discussion following and comments solicited from the audience. The faculty are invited to submit their papers for presentation at the Convocation. A committee made up of Paul Green (BPS), Mimi Kaplan (LRC), William Brazley (IRP), Helen Hughes (HLD), and Donald Douglas (EAS), will review all papers submitted and select the four papers judged to be of highest quality. The deadline for submission of manuscripts to University Relations is Monday, September 12, 5:00 p.m. The names of the four winners will be announced in the September 16 issue of Faze I. The University will publish the papers in a brochure for both internal and external distribution. Copies of Bell's article may be picked up in University Relations, BPS (Marsha Doyle), or at the Circulation Desk in LRC.

CMHEC RELOCATES...Chicago State University will house the new offices of the Chicago Metropolitan Higher Education Council, effective Aug. 31. The Council offices have been located on the GSU campus since July 1976. CMHEC's new address is: Chicago Metropolitan Higher Education Council, The Paul & Emily Douglas Library, Suite E117, 95th Street & King Dr., Chicago, Illinois 60628.
