Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

--Tennyson

Merry
Christmas

Free-associating on "Christmas" elicits for me images of laughing children, peace, gift-giving, shared joy, grandeur-in-humility. Christmas provides a welcome respite from work for all of us. Leisure for reflection and re-creation is ample. In these quiet moments we feel the tug of the approaching New Year, evoking resolutions and new beginnings. Paradoxically, then, with all its aura of quiet, relaxation and peace, the Christmas season is truly filled with excitement.

From Margaret and me a most hearty wish to each member of the Governors State University community that your holidays be rich in the beauty and majestic humanity of Christmas. And may your New Year be filled with creative and rewarding new beginnings.
