We probably wouldn't worry about what people think of us if we could know how seldom they do.

AND STILL COUNTING . . .

A total of 3,123 students registered at GSU for the 1978 Winter Trimester, according to a count taken Jan. 4 and 5. Final figures will not be available until a tally is made of Add/Drop registrations. Add/Drop was held Jan. 9-18.

DONATIONS PLEASE . . .

GSU's Child Care Center has need of dolls, doll clothes, men's and women's dress up clothes, shoes, purses, hats, etc., and containers of various shapes and sizes.

If you can help, drop off your donations at the Center, located on the first floor near the GSU Theater.

"AN EVENING OF BLACK AMERICA" . . .

will be presented by wife and husband team Ruby Dee and Ossie Davis at GSU Feb. 15. The free public program will be at 7:30 p.m. in the CCS recital hall under the auspices of the Office of Student Activities.

The production features dramatic readings, anecdotes, and short scenarios by Black authors, including folk tales from early African tribes. A selection of readings from the works of Black poets ranges from the well-known to more obscure artists.

The Davises met in 1946 while playing in the Broadway show, "Jeb." In two later plays they were cast as husband and wife and finally decided to play the parts for real. It's been a 28 year "marriage of minds, ideals, and aspiration," Davis says.

GSU STUDENT HONORED . . .

The Lincoln Academy of Illinois award for education achievement--"without the prior benefit of a full college education" has been presented to Robert M. Honig, a student in the Board of Governors degree program.

"I would like to think that the award was recognition of not only my modest achievements, but of the efforts of moms and dads, grandmas and grandpas on every campus, who are determined that their advancing years will not deter the enlargement of their intellectual horizons."

Honored with other recipients at ceremonies in Springfield, Honig's previous college record includes credits from five public and private institutions over 31 years despite pressures of work, family, and other activities.

His nonwork and nonschool experiences include self-study in ecology, psychology, history, and theology.

Honig is president of the Chicago Christian Counseling Center, senior vice-president of the First National Bank of Evergreen Park and a former alderman.

TRYOUTS . . .

for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf" are being held at GSU now through Jan. 27.

The tryouts will be in the CCS student lounge Monday thru Friday from 5:00 - 8:00 p.m. and Sat. beginning at noon.

Dr. Sherman will direct the production. For further info telephone x 2443.

THE SPIRIT OF GOVERNORS STATE UNIVERSITY

I am the spirit of Governors State University.

My birth was conceived in the yearning to foster ideas, facilitate the development of mankind, fulfill personal growth, and transform restrictive pasts into creative futures.

I was born in the minds of men, planted in an Illinois field, and cultivated by the unification of men and women from diverse geographical, educational, and philosophical origins who pooled their many talents in a cause celebre in my behalf.

My nourishment comes from the promise of new opportunities, the challenge of innovation and experimentation, the dedication to excellence in all disciplines which should rightfully constitute a new urban university in mid-America, and the commitment of resources to the realization of my being.

I am the inquisitive vigor of youth, the deliberations of mature professionalism, and the dreams of my creators and perpetuators.

My meaning is constantly being discovered through the tireless efforts of the faculty and students who endeavor to study the truths of the past, serve the needs of the present, and unveil new knowledge that will lead to tomorrow's reality.

I shall be perpetuated as long as academic freedom prevails, the cry for knowledge is heard, and the labors of creativity never cease.

My manifestation is seen in the steady daily toil of scholars at work in the academic vineyard of Governors State University where seemingly routine procedures and processes serve as the incremental blocks for personal and societal development.

I am the cause, the raison d'etre, and the zeal of Governors State University where my expression is to be found in the beautiful acts of discovery by my students and teachers.

My life is in their hands. May they nurture and guard it well.

A Laborer in the GSU Vineyard
