Two kinds of gratitude: the sudden kind
We feel for what we take, the larger kind
We feel for what we give.

THANKSGIVING MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

AS THANKSGIVING APPROACHES Margaret and I want to extend to the University community our warmest regards and best wishes. We who are privileged to be associated with Governors State University have much for which to be grateful. Above all we give thanks for our motivated, richly talented and experienced student body. We are blessed, too, in our faculty, highly qualified women and men who are committed to nourishing the kind of academic environment in which teaching and learning flourish. Our Civil Service and support staff, too, commit themselves day-in-and-day-out to the providing of all the clerical and technical services so crucial to the smooth and efficient functioning of our University. On a grander scale we can all be grateful that our State and nation continue to demonstrate the confidence and determination required to address effectively the problems which confront us as a people.

To each and every member of the GSU staff a special note: may your Thanksgiving be rich in good food, good times and good fellowship and may you return on Monday rested in body and renewed in spirit.

GSU will be closed on Thursday and Friday, November 23 and 24; however, the University will be open for normal Saturday operations on November 25.
