Vol. 9, No. 25

HONORED BY THE GSU FOUNDATION . . . Ten individuals and businesses from Chicago's southern suburbs have been named Governors State University Associates in recognition of contributions in excess of $1,000 which each made to the GSU Foundation during 1979. Pictured with Governors State University President Leo Goodman-Malamuth, II (third from the left), are five of the honorees: (left to right) James T. Reid, president, Century Steel Corporation; Anthony Pasquinelli, Pasquinelli Construction Company; James B. Lund, president, Matteson-Richton Bank and president of the GSU Foundation; Richard Salisbury, vice president and general sales manager, Calumet Steel Company; and Peter Morris, sales manager, Portion Packaging, Inc. Other honorees not pictured are R.B. Anthony, chairman, Chicago-Wilcox Manufacturing Company; Peter Levin, Levin Pontiac; Richard Small, chairman, Cheker Oil Company; Percy Wagner, real estate consultant and appraiser; and Ather Williams, Jr., plant manager, Johnson & Johnson Baby Products Company.

SHP AWARDED MEMBERSHIP . . . The School of Health Professions at Governors State University has been notified that its communications disorders major in the allied health field has gained membership in the National Council of Graduate Programs in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology.

UNIVERSITY GARDEN PLOTS . . . The University will make available sixty garden plots, (30' x 30'), behind the Hantack House (Physical Plant Operations Office). Only Governors State University full-time employees and Governors State University full-time students (12 credit hours minimum) will be eligible for use of these garden plots on a first requested-first assigned basis. Only one plot will be assigned to a qualified applicant. Submit written requests to Chester Mallory, Facilities Manager, Physical Plant Operations. Each applicant will be required to sign an agreement for the use of state property.

THAT TIME AGAIN . . . Preparation has begun on the Spring/Summer Trimester Calendar of Events. For inclusion in the Calendar, units should submit a listing of their scheduled upcoming events for May 1-August 31, to Bob Jaynes, University Relations, by Friday, April 4. Information should include the name, date, time, place, guest speakers, featured artists, admission charge, and other pertinent details. If complete information is not currently available, please send the general information and perhaps the details can be filled in by press time.

ON THE GSU CAMPUS . . . Joseph Sorrentino, attorney at law and California Juvenile Court Judge in Los Angeles, will be the featured speaker at the Contemporary Lecture Forum at 8 p.m., Friday, March 28, in Engbretson Hall.

ON THE ROAD . . . The seventh annual GSU Children's Theatre touring production has been seen by more than 1,400 elementary school children. The production, "Turkey Girl," has been seen in: Kankakee, Lincolnwood, Orland Park, Olympia Fields, Manhattan, Frankfort, and Wilton Center. Upcoming performances will be in: Park Forest, Chicago Heights, Oak Forest, Peotone, Oak Lawn, Burbank, Markham and South Holland. A special performance is scheduled for the National College of Education workshop in Evanston on April 12th.

GOOD NEWS . . . The University Library is currently in transition from the manual circulation system to LCS, an automated circulation system which has features that will extend library service for all its patrons. This system was developed by Hugh Atkinson, Librarian at the University of Illinois, and GSU was able to get it through a HECA grant. The Library will be providing basic circulation services through LCS by the middle of April.

PUBLISHED . . . ELFIE HINTERKOPF (HLD), DAVID SUDDICK (FA), Les Brunswick, and Garry Prouty have co-authored a paper entitled "A Pilot Study of Pretherapy Method Applied to Chronic Schizophrenic Patients" which has been accepted for publication by the Psychosocial Rehabilitation Journal . . . SUZANNE PRESCOTT's (HLD) article on scientific bias in the study of women is being reprinted in Female and Male: Psychological Perspectives by Rhoda Unger (Harper and Row).

THE IMPORTANCE . . . of estate planning and writing of a will are the subjects which will be discussed by Chicago attorney Catherine Brewin at a meeting Wednesday, April 9, under the sponsorship of the Women's Resource Center. The discussion is scheduled at 4:30 p.m. in GSU's Room B2325.

GSUings . . . PETER COLBY AND PAUL GREEN (both of BPA) receiving prominent mention in the Illinois Issues Report to the Ford Foundation for Fiscal Year 1979 . . .
