Vol. 9, No. 28

THE GSU STRING QUARTET . . . will be guest artists at the Spring Concert of the GSU University-Community Chorale, Sunday, April 27, in GSU's Music Recital Hall at 4 p.m. The Quartet will perform Haydn's "String Quartet in G Major," Op. 77, No. 1. Members include (left to right) Francois D'Albert, first violin; Elmer Rosen, second violin; Vlastimil Dvorak, cello; and Rami Solomonow, viola. The concert is free to the public.

FIFTY-THREE INSTRUMENTAL MUSICIANS . . . will perform in a free public concert in the Music Recital Hall, Sunday, April 20, at 4 p.m. Representing 20 communities in the southern Chicagoland region, the GSU Symphonic Band is under the direction of Robert Hindsley, Community Professor of Music at GSU. The program will include works of Shostakovich, Handel, Grainger, Arnold, and Reed.

AWARD-WINNING TV JOURNALIST . . . and former mayor of Cleveland Carl Stokes will be the featured speaker at GSU's Contemporary Lecture Forum, Friday, April 25, at 8 p.m. in the University's Theatre. Stokes is a news commentator and urban affairs editor at WNBC-TV in New York City. Tickets are: $2 for the general public; $1 for GSU faculty, staff, Alumni Association members, and senior citizens; and free to GSU students.

CAN TELEVISION BE ELIMINATED? . . . A video forum in which the public is invited to participate is scheduled for taping Wednesday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. in GSU's ICC television studios. The video forum will be an opportunity for members of the public to express their views in an informal debate of the question, "Can television be eliminated?" The provocative question has been studied by members of a Contemporary Issues class in media communications at the University. The issue has been examined in terms of television's effects on personal health and sanity, the environment, and the democratic process. Class instructor and producer of the video forum is Marian Marzynski who can be contacted for additional information at x2420, Monday-Friday, 4:30-5:30 p.m.

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION FORMS . . . must be returned to Cleo Walker, Personnel, by April 30th. This form, attached to the new DP-1 yellow computerized form distributed recently, needs to be completed and returned by all GSU employees even though the stated information was correct.

"BREAST CANCER UPDATE" . . . is the topic of an all-day conference on May 3, at the Radisson Chicago Hotel, which will be presented by GSU and the "Y-Me" self-help program, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Guest speakers will include: Jory Graham, syndicated newspaper columnist and cancer patient; Georgia Photopoulos, creator of "Cancer Call Pac" telephone counseling service and consultant to the National Cancer Institute; Audrey Gordon, psychologist, author and teacher; and doctors and nurses specializing in cancer treatment. Registration deadline is April 25. For information, call Sharon Green, x2549.

PUBLISHED . . . DONNA SIEMRO (CAS) has designed and authored a filmstrip and teacher's guide entitled "Rocks and How They Change" for the secondary school science curriculum in Saudi Arabia. Denoyer-Geppert is the U.S. producer . . . EFRAIM GIL (CAS) has co-authored with Enid Lucchesi Making the Most of Federal Assistance: Little Known Programs for Planners, PAS Report #346, American Planning Association, November, 1979. The report lists references and explains a multitude of federal programs that can provide support for local, regional and state planning activities.

TRYOUTS . . . for high school and junior high school students will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 28-29, for the GSU summer youth theatre production of "Steal Away Home," to be presented in mid-July. Auditions for actors, actresses and singers will be in the University Theatre at 7 p.m. "Steal Away Home" is a moving drama of escape from slavery via the famed underground railroad. For details, contact Temmie Gilbert, x2119.

GLOWING GRAD . . . Edward Walsh, who received a master's in business administration from GSU, is featured in the Winter, 1980 edition of Collegiate News and Views. He is on the Prairie State College faculty.

ADMINISTRATORS . . . of bilingual education programs will have an opportunity to strengthen their skills at a free conference to be held at GSU, Saturday, April 26, 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m. For details, call x2294 or 2533.
