REPORT ON THE PRESIDENT . . . Dr. Goodman-Malamuth remains at Ingalls Hospital as a result of a staph infection and slight fever. He is resting comfortably and now hopes to return home during the first week in August.

TENURE DECISION . . . On July 24, 1980, the Board of Governors voted to convert cyclical tenure at GSU to regular tenure. This means that effective July 24, 1980, all bargaining unit members and administrative and professional employees who hold cyclical tenure, hold regular tenure. Further, it means that all others of such employees who are in the future granted tenure will be granted regular tenure.

While the Agreement calls for each bargaining unit member to be evaluated annually, the move to regular tenure eliminates the evaluation for purposes of renewal of tenure.

REMINDER TO ALL FACULTY . . . It's time to think about the materials you will want on reserve during the Fall '80 Trimester. Please submit your reserve lists by Friday, August 15, if you have not already done so. For further information, call your subject coordinator in the Library: Jo Wiater, HLD and BPA, x2327; Mary Sallander: SHP and CAS, x2333

LANGUAGE AND POLITICS WORKSHOP SCHEDULED . . . Hugh Rank (CAS) has assembled an impressive list of speakers for a workshop in Language and Politics scheduled for Oct. 3, 4, 5 here at GSU. In addition to Rank, author of Language and Public Policy, who will act as host, the following guests will appear: Dan Nimmo, professor, University of Tennessee, The Political Persuaders; Doris Graber, professor, University of Illinois, Chicago, Verbal Behavior and Politics; Lloyd Bitzer, professor, University of Wisconsin, "Carter vs. Ford: The Counterfeit Debates of 1976;" Edward P. J. Corbett, professor, Ohio State University, Classical Rhetoric for the Modern Student; Mark Knapp, professor, SUNY, New Paltz, Nonverbal Communication in Human Interaction; Richard Johannesen, professor, Northern Illinois University, Ethics in Human Communication; Julian Kanter, Chicago, director, the Political Commercial Archives; Sidney Blumenthal, Boston, The Permanent Campaign; John Crager, professor, Illinois State University, Applied Communication Research. In addition to these speakers, the workshop will feature, courtesy Student Services, a Friday night appearance by former U. S. Senator and Presidential candidate, Eugene McCarthy, and a showing of feature film, The Candidate, starring Robert Redford.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION . . . for the 1980 fall trimester for degree-seeking students will continue through Aug. 15. A special GSU/college orientation and advanced registration program for newly admitted and readmitted students will take place Aug. 12, BPA; Aug. 13, HLD; and Aug. 14, CAS, BOG and UWW. For more info, call x2518, 2518 or 2510.

GOVERNOR SIGNS HIGHER ED BILL . . . On the 9th of this month Governor Thompson approved $998 million in General Revenue funds for higher education, including sufficient funding for an 8 per cent average salary increase for faculty and staff at the state's public higher education institutions.

The Governor's bill actions mean the higher education budget for Fiscal Year 1981 will total $1,145,970,288, of which $998 million is state funds. The total provided by the state, Thompson said, is $85 million more than FY1980, a 9.3 per cent increase.

In approving the higher education appropriation levels, Thompson applied a reduction totaling $6,565,800 to the series of bills to lower the pay raise from 9 per cent to 8 per cent.

"At a time when a deepening recession is forcing state government to practice fiscal restraint and examine every spending practice to make ends meet, it is important that we live within our means," the Governor said.

"I recognize the concern of higher education institutions to provide additional salary increases sufficient to remain competitive with other institutions outside Illinois. It is vital that Illinois attract and retain quality personnel.

"To evaluate the needs for future compensation, I am willing and committed to work with the Board of Higher Education and institutional personnel during the coming months to examine ways of achieving additional compensation increases across a multi-year period to maintain our competitive standing," Thompson said.

The higher education appropriations approved by Thompson include:

**A $6 million, or 9.9 per cent increase over the last fiscal year, in retirement funds, maintaining the state contribution at the gross benefit payout level.

**A total of $762.9 million for public universities, an increase of $67.8 million, or 9.8 per cent over FY1980 estimated spending.

**A total of $141.9 million for community colleges, an increase of $12.6 million, or 9.8 per cent over FY1980.

**An allocation of $85.8 million for the Illinois State Scholarship Program, expected to provide grants to about 84,000 students.

**A total of $2 million to fund the state's new academic scholarship program and $2.8 million to boost the monetary award program for students from an $1,800 to a $1,900 maximum.

The Governor applied reductions totaling $6,565,800 to SB-1571, the Board of Higher Education ($9,300); SB-1572, the University of Illinois ($2,296,400); SB-1573, Southern Illinois University ($923,000); SB-1574, the Board of Regents, including Illinois State, Northern Illinois University, Sangamon State University ($875,800); SB-1575, the Board of Governors, including Chicago State, Eastern Illinois University, Governors State, Western Illinois University, Northeastern Illinois University ($794,100); and SB-1576, the Community College Board ($1,667,200).

GSUings . . . MATT POROLI (PPO) returning home from the hospital and saying thanks to all of the GSUers who sent him cards . . . BOB PRESS (CAS) attending International Survival Gathering in the Black Hills of South Dakota. . . Workshops dealt with energy, appropriate technology, wholistic medicine, Indian genocide and multi-national involvement. Bob also attending Antioch College reunion and reporting that new leadership and careful fiscal responsibility is revitalizing the school, now known as Antioch University with ten centers throughout the country including one in Washington, D.C. . . . ANNIE LAWRENCE (SHP), director of the Nursing Program, recently elected chair of the American Nurses' Association Advisory Council . . . JOHN LOWE III (SHP) and wife Sherry celebrating the birth of their 9 lb., 6 oz. second son, Don Scott Lowe, on July 14 . . .

NEWS OF STUDENTS . . . SHP student, Patricia Klancer, South Holland, receiving a $500 Foster G. McGaw Scholarship after being selected for the honor by the Association of University Programs in Health Administration . . . Oak Lawn resident, James P. Prieur, grad student in environmental science program of CAS, receiving a "student research participation appointment" at Argonne National Laboratory for this summer. As such, Prieur joins a group representing 144 colleges and universities from 33 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands who will also participate in summer research at Argonne.

GSU Sights/Sites 'Flying Saucer'

GSU has formally announced that a UFO will definitely be sighted on its campus in the very near future. The announcement was occasioned by the arrival at the Park Forest South campus of sculptor Jene Highstein who is re-creating for the University his massive work entitled "Flying Saucer." When completed, this work, the largest and most important by the internationally famous Highstein, will become part of the on-going campus exhibition which already features works by such artists as Di Suvero, Henry and Hunt.

The thirty-eight-year-old Highstein began exhibiting ten years ago. His works have been displayed in cities throughout the world, among them, Munich, London, Paris, Milan, Rome, Berkeley and Chicago. Among his some forty exhibitions in New York was the 1977 "Recent Aquisitions" at the Guggenheim.

When completed "Flying Saucer" will measure sixteen feet in diameter, will stand seven feet in height, and, with its black, concrete surface, will weigh over seven tons. Donald Young of Young Hoffman Gallery in Chicago says of the piece, "This sculpture gives us a vision of earth that we can comprehend. Its eccentric form is intensely human and one is acutely aware of the human hand in the black, concrete surface. The piece is just a bit taller than we are and thus relates to our human scale. It is homely, friendly, even lovable in contrast to much larger sculpture which, with its polished surfaces and sharp contours, seems less immediately related to us."

Highstein states, "My work will always be in a human kind of scale. It will never compete with architecture. The scale is the focus of the work."

Throughout this last week the artist and his sculpture-student assistants have been at work from 9:30 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. near the Hantack House preparing the giant steel armature to receive its coating of concrete.

Once the concrete is applied Monday, August 4, the work will remain at its construction site for one week, the time required for drying.

Finally, in what should be a dramatic visual experience for those in attendance, a giant crane will lift the massive work and carry it some three hundred yards across the campus to a field in which, it is said, the "Flying Saucer" will make a beautiful landing.

Note: all concrete for the piece is being donated by the Arquilla family of Burnside Construction Company in Glenwood and Accurate Redi-Mix Concrete Co. of Hazelcrest.

Steel armature of "Flying Saucer" arrives at GSU, Monday, July 21.

"Armature" awaiting Highstein's welding and coating process.
