PRAIRIE PLANT LIFE . . . is the focus of a research project for Louis Mule (CAS). "This research will focus on problems with weeds and the compatibility of various species in the prairie plant community. We want to restore the natural balance of prairies for our area soils. Developing a procedure that applies commercial greenhouse techniques to the growth of environmental plants is an important part of this project." At present, five volunteers plus several students at the University are collecting seeds for the project. In mid-December, all the seeds will be turned in so that they can be cleaned and catalogued. They will be kept under cool, dry conditions, awaiting a January or February planting in the GSU greenhouse. During May, they will be transplanted in the GSU nature trail areas. Mule has been provided with two mini-grants from GSU to fund his research project. "This research has created a lot of awareness of the environment, and the response has been encouraging," says Mule.

NURSING CURRICULUM MEETING . . . will be held December 15 and 16 at 9:00 a.m. in the Nursing lab for the purpose of developing a curriculum for a master's program in Nursing. Issues such as philosophy, objectives and goals will be discussed. For further information, call Charleyn Oliver, x2440.

LOST AND FOUND . . . items are getting new treatment from the Office of Student Activities, in an attempt to locate the owners. When an item is found, an effort is made to identify the owner and determine status (student, staff or faculty member). The phone number is obtained and the owner is informed that their article has been found and will be kept in a locked cabinet until claimed. Items not claimed in 30 days will either be discarded or donated to an appropriate charity. Books from the GSU Library will be returned to the Library. "The Office of Student Activities is continually attempting to upgrade services to the GSU community."

HOLIDAY CLOSINGS . . . GSU will close for the holidays December 25, 1980 through January 5, 1981, in keeping with the nation's goal to conserve energy. The YMCA at GSU will be closed on December 24, 25 and 31, 1980, and January 1, 1981, but will be open for the remainder of the holiday season.

THE LINCOLN ACADEMY OF ILLINOIS . . . has conferred the Student Laureate Award on LaVerne Jackson, a student of Fine and Performing Arts at GSU. Jackson is one of 54 Illinois college students (26 from the Chicago area) to have been chosen by the Lincoln Academy, a non-profit organization headed by Gov. James Thompson. The honor for academic excellence will be conferred December 13 at an award ceremony in the Illinois House chambers at Springfield. Gov. Thompson will present to each student a $100 honorarium and a Lincoln medallion from the Academy for bringing "honor to the State in the tradition of Abraham Lincoln." With financial support from the GSU Foundation, Jackson was given the opportunity to study voice with Maestro Leone of the Rome Opera House this past summer, and is currently studying with Anne Perillo of Frankfort. Jackson is a lyric soprano with special interest in singing opera. She has participated in opera workshops and has given two student recitals while at GSU. She has sung in Christmas festivals in Mexico for the past 3 years, and has participated in vocal competitions both locally and nationally. Presently, she is preparing for a third recital to take place in spring, 1981.

PUBLISHED . . . CLIFFORD EAGLETON and ROY COGDELL have published "The Humanistic University: Forerunner to the Urban Renaissance," in the proceedings of the Fifth National Conference on Urban Education of the National Urban Education Association . . . HUGH RANK has published an article entitled "How to Analyze Political Rhetoric" in the December issue of English Journal. The article is based on the opening speech to the "Language and Politics" workshop which occurred at GSU on October 3.

GSUings . . .
