DENTAL PROGRAM CLARIFICATIONS . . . At the dental program enrollments held on March 12 and 13, several points of misinformation were presented. In an attempt to clarify these items, the following information must be considered. The marital status of the employee has no bearing on which coverage is available. In determining dependents, these guidelines must be followed: 1) Spouse; 2) Unmarried child --birth to 19 yrs living with the member; 3) Unmarried child 19-23 & a full-time student, financially dependent upon member, & eligible to be claimed as a dependent for Il State income tax purposes; 4) Unmarried child 19 & older, handicapped, financially dependent upon member, and eligible to be claimed as a dependent for Il State income tax purposes; 5) Any dependent family member living with the member and eligible to be claimed as a dependent on Il State income tax. Once the program is initiated coverage shall be for a full year. Termination of coverage may be implemented by the employee at any time. Enrollment forms should be sent to Lu Poroli (Pers.) as soon as possible.

CREDIT UNION ELECTIONS . . . At the organizational meeting of the Will Co. Schools Credit Union, the following GSU staff people were elected to serve on the board of directors: Lucille Poroli, Pers., Chair; Prince McLemore, HLD, Vice-Chair; Dale Max, BPA, Director. Annual reports and further info about the Credit Union may be requested from any of these persons.

Clyde E. Gardner (right), university professor of health services administration at GSU and president of Foundation I Center for Human Development in Harvey, is presented an engraved plaque recognizing his efforts for and contributions to the center by Robert Cornesky, director of the School of Health Professions, and Leo Goodman-Malamuth II. The award was made at the recent recognition dinner sponsored by SHP at Lady Canterbury's Tales in Country Club Hills.

MULTICULTURAL CONFERENCE . . . A GSU conference featuring discussions on "Media & Ethnicity--Implications for Learners" will be held on April 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in Engbretson Hall. Registration fee (including lunch) is $8 prior to April 3 or $9.50 after April 3. For more info call x2568.

F A Z E F O C U S O N . . . RICHARD VORWERK

Serving to expand the course of adult higher education, GSU's Office of Special Programs under the supervision of Dr. Richard Vorwerk continues to play a major role at this University.

Since its inception in the Fall of 1977, the Office of Special Programs has become GSU's answer to a depressed enrollment by instituting more courses off campus. Both Vorwerk and his staff have worked to enable adult students to amass a total of between 14,000 and 16,000 credit hours by taking off-campus courses this year. Throughout the six county Metropolitan Chicago area, there are 47 different sites for these courses.

"With the acceleration of change, especially in the economy and in technology, more and more people are making job changes. As a direct result, they need further training and education," Vorwerk commented. "Also, we are serving adults in the second half of their lives.

The average age of GSU students is between 36 and 38 years, and they have different values than they did when they were younger. Now, they want to know and learn more and get more satisfaction out of a formal education."

A wide variety of conferences, workshops, seminars as well as regular classes are offered through Vorwerk's office. All credit offerings are organized and approved by the individual colleges and the School of Health Professions.

Vorwerk regards the Office of Special Programs as the facilitating unit or the marketing arm of GSU. "The academics organize the courses and programs and we handle the paperwork along with setting up sites," according to Vorwerk.

During his eleven years of employment at GSU, Vorwerk has held a variety of positions at different times. He was appointed as the director of the University Library, the dean of Instructional Services, acting dean of Student Affairs and Services, dean of Special Programs and Continuing Education and to his current role as director of the Office of Special Programs.

Beginning in the Fall of this year, Vorwerk will end his association with Special Programs and become a university professor in the College of Business and Public Administration here at GSU. "It's time for a change and I feel that I should move on to something else," Vorwerk explained.

He believes that if GSU continues to capitalize on its off-campus courses system, it will be the University of the future. Instituting permanent sites, producing telecourses and developing new associations with organizations outside of GSU are all seen as potential benefits.

"This school will be filled to capacity in five more years, although at present nobody agrees with me on that at all," noted Vorwerk. "But we've had our highest enrollments ever during the past three Trimesters and this trend seems to be continuing."

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES FUND PHONATHON . . . GSU's Alumni Association has announced plans for the Annual Fund phonathon during the month of April. 120 volunteers will be needed to give one evening of their time. GSU staffers are invited to take part in this event. Individuals who have already committed themselves to helping out are: Dr. Leo Goodman-Malamuth II, Mrs. Esthel Allen, Dr. Beverly Beeton, Dr. Curt McCray, Dr. Melvin Freed, Dr. Virginio Piucci, Mr. Bill Dodd, Dr. Richard Vorwerk and Mrs. Jean Singer. Groups from the Library, Office of Special Programs and Local 743 I.B. of T. have also pledged their assistance.

Efforts will involve using 20 phones in the Honors Dining Room from which alums will be called and asked for their participation in the Alumni Fund. Funds collected from this drive will help to achieve two goals for this year, Alumni Way and the library computer terminals.

The format each evening will consist of a light dinner at 5:30 p.m. followed by a short period of instruction. Calling will begin at 6:30 p.m. and continue until 9:30 p.m., at which time the results will be tallied. Special prizes will be presented to the volunteers who raise the most pledges (dinner on the town!).

The Alumni Association looks forward to having as many volunteers as possible involved with the phonathon. Please complete the form below and return it as soon as possible.
