INDIVIDUALIST, FEMINIST AUTHOR TO LECTURE HERE

Dr. Sara Shumer, professor of political theory at Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania, and a visiting professor at the University of California at Santa Cruz, will be a guest speaker here. Her appearance is sponsored by "The Creative Woman" quarterly and the Provost's office.

Shumer is an avid individualist, so much so that she spends her summers in a cabin above the snow line in the California Sierras, (she goes up and digs out the cabin, which she built herself, every May). She will speak, appropriately enough, on "Two Concepts of Individualism," or, to put it in other words, "What the Founding Fathers Really Meant."

Shumer, is well qualified to speak on the subject of individualism and feminism, since she was active in the civil rights and student movements in the '60s. She has published; one of her articles appeared in the magazine, Political Theory, titled "Machiavelli: Republican Politics and its Corruption."

The noted lecturer has also served as guest editor for "The Creative Woman" for their "Women in Politics" issue, Summer, '79, writing the lead article for that issue, "A Feminist Politics of Women in Politics."

Be there at 7 p.m. in Engbretson Hall to hear her, Friday, August 28. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

•NEWS OF INTEREST•

GSU's PR man, BOB JAYNES, needs your input. If you have any dates of special events you want to make sure will go on the Fall Trimester Calendar of Events, get them in now.

Last year, the Calendar did not come out until October, which is a little late, considering it is for a September through December listing.

Send your event date c/o Bob, UR, or call him on Ext. 2122.

CETA AWARDS LUNCHEON

Franchon Lindsay, GSU, receives her award for outstanding service to CETA from Louis W. Krause, director of the Will-Grundy CETA Consortium.

Many dedicated employees were recognized for their contributions to CETA at the Services Awards Luncheon held on August 3 in Joliet.

Among the recipients of certificates were Franchon Lindsay and Ira Neal of GSU, Lindsay has been working as the interviewer for all CETA program participants at the University. Neal handles CETA project management and budget configuration.

Two GSU staff members were among the speakers on the luncheon panel. Acting Associate Provost/VPAA Dr. BEVERLY BEETON greeted guests, welcoming them warmly and giving the program introduction.

HECTOR ORTIZ, director of community services and education, summed up the occasion by saying, "Those of you who have received these plaques and certificates have received them because not only did you do what the law required, but you went that extra mile and for this you need to be commended."

A CALL FOR PAPERS

A reminder that a Call For Papers was issued by JEFFREY S. KAISER (HLD) on June 24:

Jeff, a member of the Academic Convocation Committee, reminds faculty, administration and professional staff that the Faculty Senate is planning an academic convocation this Fall.

The conference is addressing the issue of SEARCHING FOR A FRAMEWORK FOR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AT GSU. The seminar will provide a forum to consider the issue.

In selecting papers for presentation, such things as organization, concrete recommendations and a variety of viewpoints will be considered.

Deadline for submission of papers is October 1.
