| Production Procedures | | University Park, Illinois, January 11, 2012 – Explore great art and the beauty of a natural prairie landscape at the Nathan Manilow Sculpture Park's annual winter walk on Saturday, January 28, from 2 to 5 p.m. | | | | | |
| Image Standards | | Park Curator and Director Geoffrey Bates will lead this year's winter tour of the nationally recognized sculpture park, located at Governor's State University. The winter walk is free, although reservations are required. | | | | | |
| Font and Typeface Guidelines | | "Anyone who has experienced one of our winter walks knows this is a particularly beautiful time to be in the sculpture park," Bates said. "The stillness and quiet of the park is truly remarkable, and snowy days provide a unique, dramatic background to our sculptures." | | | | | |
| Editorial Style Guide | | The park's permanent collection includes 27 pieces by nationally and internationally recognized artists. | | | | | |
| Downloads | | Following the winter walk, participants will be treated to a chili dinner in the upstairs lobby of the GSU Center for Performing Arts. Bates said sculpture park board member Leona Calvin and her husband George "make a mean bowl of red," and last year's chili dinner was considered a huge success. | | | | | |
| Photography | | Visitors should meet inside GSU's Hall of Governors. Participants should dress for winter weather and be prepared to walk at least 90 minutes. The tour will be held, snow or shine. If the daytime high temperature is predicted to be below 20 degrees, the walk will be rescheduled for the following day, Sunday, January 29. | | | | | |
| Recent Press Releases | | This year's winter walk will be limited to 35 participants. To reserve a spot, contact the sculpture park RSVP line at (708) 534-3084 with your name, contact phone number, and number of guests. Your reservation will be confirmed by a staff member within two days. | | | | | |
