A Newsletter Produced by and for the GSU Faculty and Staff

October 8, 1971

Vol.1, No.4

IT'S THE MINI-CAMPUS...GSU's temporary or interim building is now being called the "mini-campus" in official correspondence and news releases. The mini-campus sits on an 11 acre site, has about 100,000 square feet of useable space inside, and now accomodates about 700 students and 150 faculty and staff. The permanent campus scheduled to open in the fall of 1973 sits on 753 acres, has about 400,000 square feet inside, and will be occupied by 1973.

GSU CHILDREN'S THEATER..."A theater for children and by children made possible by the talent and creativity of Governors State students and faculty," that's the novel children's theater evolving from the College of Cultural Studies. Al Sherman in announcing that GSU will organize its first children's theater noted that the theater is designed to "...bring together children from varied ethnic groups, offering them an experience geared to increase insight and help the child grow as performer and human being." More info later as the theater heads toward a November organization.

FIRST SESSION STATS...692 of the 695 GSU students come from Illinois, with 2 from Nigeria and 1 from Indiana. Undergraduates total 445 with 329 of them junior college transfers, graduate students accounting for 250. 396 of the 695 are full time students. Married men total 241, unmarried men 152, married women 200 and unmarried women 102.

CHICAGO, CHICAGO...What do you read to learn about the windy city? Suggestions from urban historian Tom Kelley: Nelson Algren's Chicago, City on the Make, Harold Mayer and Richard Wade's Chicago, Growth of a Metropolis, and of course, Mike Royko's Boss, Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

GSUings...Dan Cassagrande selected to attend the faculty workshop "Environmental Science II-Pesticide Analysis" given at Argonne, Ill. Oct.1-2.

Bill Engbretson, invited by the city of Chicago to serve as a member of the Veteran's Education and Training Action Committee, part of a pilot project funded by the U.S. Conference of Mayors to assist low income and minority group veterans to take advantage of their G.I. Bill educational benefits.

Jim Gallagher, elected by the faculty to represent GSU on the Board of Higher Education Faculty Advisory Committee.

IN THE WORKS

From ICC: Who do you call for instructional media equipment(e.g. film & slide projectors, audio and video tape recorders)? Try Ann Cole, ext. 280 at the mini-campus.

From Comm: A GSU staff directory when everyone gets moved into the mini-campus. Information obtained through GSU Women will be coordinated with additional info including new telephone extensions.

Conversation between Shirley Jackson and an electrician: "I thought these big professors around here made about $50,000 with all those degrees and using all them big words like yesterday's elephants, nevertheless, and furthermore."

FOLLOW THE PARTY LINE...Social module for all GSU staff and spouses, October 15, 5:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m., Burnham Oaks Lodge. RSVP Kay Estrada.
