It's Re-Accreditation Time

Your input is needed. In preparation for the re-accreditation visit from the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools, GSU must conduct a self-study, involving all departments and aspects of the university.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend a university-wide information session on Wednesday, April 2, from 2 to 4 p.m., in Sherman Hall.

Learn

- What accreditation is and why it is so important
- How the accreditation process works
- The university-wide implications of the HLC site-visit and re-accreditation
- About your important role in the process

Tools and News You Can Use

Is it "a m," "AM," or "a.m.?" Where can I get a clean copy of the GSU logo and what's the correct way to use it? These and many other questions are addressed on the new Public Affairs website.

The site is designed to provide the university community with the tools needed to help them access Public Affairs services, catch-up on university news, and help create a consistent look and voice for all university publications and materials.

Two for Tuesday - Giants Compared

It could be considered a meeting of young and old, or the clothed and unclothed, or the listless and the vibrant. Or it could be described as a revelation of everything you don't know about our very own Paul by Tony Tasset and how our giant compares (artistically and physically) to Michelangelo's monumental David (currently on display in Florence, Italy).

Geoffrey Bates, curator and director of the Nathan Manilow Sculpture Park, will lead the half-hour presentation on Tuesday, April 1, 12:30 p.m. and again at 3:45 p.m., in room D-1497. Bring lunch or a snack, enjoy the conversation, and learn more about the old giant of GSU and the teen with a slingshot.

Library Week Activities

The Friends of the GSU Library are celebrating National Library Week (April 14-18) with activities designed to bring out the bookworm in all of us. Unwanted books will be collected for resale and re-read. Baked goods will be sold to raise funds and an information table about the Friends will raise awareness. (See events calendar for times and dates.)

The afternoon of April 16 begins with a competition at noon in the Hall of Governors. "It was a dark and stormy night" competition asks contestants to identify books and authors by the first line. Teams of 3 to 4 people are invited to join the fun. A university-wide reception will follow, from 2 to 4 p.m. on the Library Balcony.

The week culminates with popcorn in the Hall of Governors from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. to celebrate National Library Worker's Day.
