THANKSGIVING FOOD DRIVE...Collection boxes are located in the Commons, at the Planning Building, and in the four collegial areas as part of a Thanksgiving food drive being sponsored by BALANCE, GSU's organization concerned with preserving a natural, livable environment. Local food retailers are being asked to contribute turkeys to be included in the dinner food packages for those GSU families that would not otherwise be able to have a traditional feast on Thanksgiving Day. All other members of the GSU community are being asked to contribute canned or other non-perishable foods. The Financial Aids Office is cooperating in the project to help with distribution of the food packages.

EXCUSED TIME FOR VOTING...All employees are allowed, under Illinois State law, to take up to two hours of excused time for voting. The time of your absence should be arranged with your supervisor.

OPEN HEARINGS ON TUITION INCREASES...The Executive Committee has charged the Fiscal Resources Committee with drafting a "tentative statement representing Governors State University's potential position in any proposed increase." The Fiscal Resources Committee has appointed an ad hoc sub-committee (BETTY STANLEY, Chairperson, RICH ALLEN, DIXON BUSH, DAVE CURTIS, WARDELL HARGROVE, and ALICIA ZAMUDIO) to conduct two open hearings and report on its findings. The hearings will be held:

All members of the University Community are urged to attend and present their views. The sub-committee plans to present background information concerning the question of tuition increases.

Leave my road alone

TO THE EDITOR:

Once upon a time, long, long, ago, we bought a little farm on a little country road. It was a dirt road, and very bumpy. We had a little dog that we called Lady. Lady used to sleep in the middle of that road. It was not a very good place to sleep, but she liked it, and the people would drive by, and Lady would go back to sleep. Soon we had a little girl named Lynn. As Lynn grew up we took her places and she got tired, and when we went home she would ask how far it was and when we got to the little road we would tell her that we were on Lynn's bumpy road, and were almost home.

One day a man called me and said that he was running for township road commissioner and that if I would vote for him, he would get my little road paved. I told him that if he would not get it paved I would vote for him. I didn't, but I guess someone did. Pretty soon some men came and paved the road and the traffic went a little faster, and Lady could not sleep in the road anymore. Lady lived to a ripe old age, but the little doggy that we got to replace her could not even cross the road. We found him in the ditch beside the road one afternoon. He had not been able to cross the road fast enough. By then we had a little girl named Mary. While I was burying the little dog, Mary asked me why she was crying. I could only say that it was probably for the same reason that I was.

Another day I came home from work and I saw that our little road looked very naked. Some men had come and cut out all the trees and bushes along the edge of the road and cut the grass. You could see a lot better, and drive a lot faster, too.

One night a man came to my door and said he thought I should call the police because he had been walking on my little road and he had come upon a car that was against a tree and it was badly hurt and he could hear a voice from inside the car that sounded badly hurt. It was. The young man was dead by the time the police came. He was the second young person to die on that little road since it was improved.

One day this week I came home from a trip to California and I found that some men had come with tractors and graders and had begun to cut all the banks down along the little road. I suppose it will make the cars better able to go fast along the little road.

One day I hope to Hell people will quit messing with my little road.
