EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY SEEKS CANDIDATE...Eastern Illinois seeks nominations and applications for the position of associate vice president for academic affairs. The successful candidate will have a mature record of teaching and research/creativity which would qualify for senior rank in an academic department (doctorate preferred); administrative experience; excellent communication skills; and demonstrated leadership ability. The position will be available no later than July 1, 1988. Nominations and applications must be received by Dec. 14.

Eastern Illinois is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, minorities and individuals with disabilities are encouraged. Nominations and applications should be sent to Jon Laible, Chairperson, Search Committee for Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs, Old Main, Room 202, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, IL 61920.

THEOLOGY FOR LUNCH LECTURES CONTINUE IN DECEMBER...Theology for Lunch, a series of lectures on religious or ethical topics, will be given Tuesdays during December beginning at noon in the Student Life Meeting Room (A-1804). The lectures are open to the public at no charge. Participants may bring lunch or purchase one from the university cafeteria.

Guest speakers for the month: on December 1, Susan Fagin, editor of the INNOVATOR, who will speak about "Ethics and Journalism" and on Dec. 8, Dr. Anthony Wei (CAS), who will discuss "The Jesus Controversy in the Early Church."

LUNCHEON NOTES SERIES PRESENTS IN DECEMBER...A series of entertainment by students, faculty and area residents called Luncheon Notes will be presented from 12:30-1:15 p.m. on Thursdays in the Hall of Governors during December for the first two weeks before the university breaks for the holidays.

On Dec. 3, the Prairie State Chamber Singers, directed by Valerie Nicholson, will entertain. Soprano Karen Blunk will perform on Dec. 10.

CIVIL SERVICE SCHOLARSHIP IS ENDOWED...According to Dorothy Hardimon (FA), scholarship chairman, the GSU Civil Service Scholarship is now officially endowed. The first award of $100 will be made in early 1988 to a deserving civil service employee or child of a civil service employee. Applications and detailed eligibility information will be available by the end of November. Hardimon said, "I want to thank all of you who contributed. We are, of course, still accepting contributions. Since the awards are contingent on the interest earned on the endowed funds, it will grow only from direct contributions and fund raising activities. As the fund grows, the number and amount of the awards will increase. Let's keep up the good work!"

JEAN (DEKKER) HOFFMAN—GAME SHOW STAR...A postcard from former employee, Jean (Dekker) Hoffman invites old friends and acquaintances from GSU to watch the Newlywed Game on Monday, Nov. 30. Jean and husband Hank will be on the air hamming it up for the studio audience. Jean says, "We refuse to tell you whether we won or lost or how much we embarrassed ourselves. We don't want to spoil the fun!" Jean worked at GSU from July 1972 to Aug. 1981.

COOKBOOK COMMITTEE SAYS THANKS...The response to requests for recipes for the civil service cookbook has been outstanding. By the end of October, over 31% of the university community contributed recipes. The committee is now hard at work organizing, categorizing, checking, designing and tasting! Committee members feel the soon-to-be-published cookbook will rival the best.

AIDS WORKSHOP DEC. 4...Do health care workers accept the risks of caring when they enter the profession? The question is pertinent to today's health care workers primarily because of the infectious disease AIDS.

Some workers have refused to give treatment or be part of a medical team because of the risks they believe may be involved.

Yet hospitals and clinics have formal policies outlining the specific rights and obligations of their employees when dealing with persons who have tested positive for AIDS. "AIDS and the Health Professional: Rights and Obligations," a workshop, Dec. 4, will help clarify many of the gray areas and give hospital administrators and staff insights into the questions puzzling many today.

For further information on the workshop, contact Prof. Elizabeth Brutvan in the College of Health Professions at (312) 534-5000, extension 2350, or Roger Paris (OCW) on extension 2484.

"FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR TEACHERS" OFFERED DEC. 2, 3 AND 7...There's no crystal ball to tell teachers what's in their future, but they don't have to second guess if they've made sound, knowledgeable investments.

Four speakers will outline financial planning and investment strategies during a three-meeting workshop titled "Financial Planning for Teachers." It is sponsored by the Office of Economic Education at the university. Each session will last from 4:15 to 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 2, 3 and 7 at the South Cook Educational Service Center in the Homewood-Flossmoor High School North Building.

Cost of the seminar is $20 for individuals and $30 for couples. For further information or to register, call Kay Schebler at the Office of Economic Education on extension 2141.

MEDIA APPRECIATION LUNCHEON HONORS UNIVERSITY SUPPORTERS...Representatives of ten media were honored recently at the first annual Media Appreciation Luncheon sponsored by the Office of University Relations at the university.

The thirty persons in attendance heard Ray Wilson, publisher of newspapers in Elgin and Wheaton and a member of the Board of Governors, extol the advantages of a close working relationship between media and the higher education community.

Wilson urged the press to join with educational leaders "to spread the message that economic change is rooted in educational advancement...to spread the message that social and societal ills are the result of unopened minds...to spread the message that illness and poverty thrive on ignorance."

SUBSTANCE ABUSE LECTURE SERIES OFFERED DEC. 7..."Current Topics in Substance Abuse," a lecture series on the work being done with substance abusers and new findings in the field, will be offered from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Dec. 7 at the McCormick Center Hotel in Chicago.

Prof. Peter Palanca (CHP) will lead the presentation and provide participants an opportunity to discuss a variety of topics and issues. For further information or to register, call the Office of Conferences and Workshops, extension 2484.

NURSING FOR THE 90s—CONFERENCE, DEC. 4..."Entrepreneurship: Nursing for the 90s" is the topic for a day-long conference on Dec. 4 at the Holiday Inn in Matteson. The program, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., will cover a wide range of topics to help inform nurses of the options open to them and to help develop plans for those who want to start their own nursing business.

Topics of discussion will include fee-for-service, how changes in American health will affect nursing, independent nursing practice and nurses making house calls. The program is open to all nurses. For further information or to register, contact the Office of Conferences and Workshops at extension 2310.

EOTM—SHIRLEY GRANT RECEIVES AWARD...Our congratulations to Shirley Grant (CE) who's been selected the November Civil Service Employee of the Month.

SHIRLEY GRANT

Shirley, a Secretary IV Trans., has been at the university for eleven years. She went back to work after her two children were in school, and she was getting bored staying at home. She had an office job before she was hired by GSU. "Working here is very convenient for me. I live in Crete. But, also, the work here is interesting," she says.

For the first five years Shirley was in the Division of Education. She switched to the Division of Psychology and Counseling after one of the secretaries left. "They desperately needed someone, but I remember I wasn't excited about transferring. Now I wouldn't want to leave. These people are great to work for," she states.

They say the same about Shirley. While she was surprised at being nominated, the faculty in her division who suggested she be recognized say Shirley's an asset to their office. "Shirley is usually the first person to greet students or visitors to our area," says Dr. Judith Cooney. "She is unfailingly patient, courteous and helpful, even when those same attributes are not extended in her direction. Her diplomacy and professionalism under fire could be a model for both faculty and staff."

Shirley and her husband, Richard, have two children. Their daughter, Cheryl, is working for her degree through the BOG program here. She attends school in the evenings after work. Their son, Tom, is a graduate of Northern Illinois University and a management trainee.

The Grants have been married twenty-eight years. One of their favorite pastimes is camping, which they started doing when the children were young. This past summer, they took a three-week camping vacation and visited thirteen national parks in Colorado, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. They also camped for a week in the Smokey Mountains.

But they also make time for luxury vacations. In the past few years, they've visited Cancun, Mexico, and Hawaii.

Shirley keeps in shape for her active life by exercising at the GSU YMCA almost every lunch hour. She's also an avid reader who'll read just about anything.
