THE STORY: Based on a true incident as reported in the Nagasaki newspaper shortly before WWII, US Navy Lieutenant Pinkerton marries a 15 year old geisha in Nagasaki, abandons her and then returns to Japan several years later with his American wife, determined to adopt the little son that Butterfly has born the American officer. Confronted with this tragic reality, Butterfly takes her own life.

“Madama Butterfly had a musical polish that would grace any stage in the world. Soprano Su-Jin Lee offered as dramatic a rendering of Cio-cio-san as might be imagined with her seamless, powerful voice and suavely elegant acting style.” THE TRIBUNE - Feb. 2002

“A heartbreaking Cio-cio-san, that’s exactly what Teatro Lirico D’Europa offered in Qilian Chen. Chen was up to revealing the levels of tragedy. She went the marathon distance with strength and dignity, and with subtle and affecting phrasing. She carried the opera to its triumphant conclusion.” LOS ANGELES TIMES - Feb. 2002

“Lusty, whole hearted, full-throated and honest. Resounding chorus and experienced orchestra.” OPERA NEWS - Feb. 2002

“I hope that Giorgio Lalov, the talented creator of Teatro Lirico D’Europa, continues to bring us such magnificent productions for years to come.” ILLINOIS TIMES - March 2002
