ARTICULATION CONFERENCE . . . More than 50 counselors and administrators from 15 nearby community colleges were on the Governors State University campus March 18, attending an articulation conference and luncheon. The conferees discussed the current status of--and future plans for--GSU's academic programs and policies, admissions, records, and student development and activities. Speaking at the conference were: GSU President Leo Goodman-Malamuth; Provost Curt McCray; Deans Robert Milam, Clara Anthony, William Katz, and Frank Borelli; Otis Lawrence, John Lowe, Burton Collins, Herbert Robinson, Tommy Dascenzo, M. Catherine Taylor, Tom Deem, and Dick Pride. The conference was hosted by Dick Pride and the Office of Admissions and Tom Deem, Coordinator of Community College Relations.

NEW STUDY UNDERWAY . . . Roberta Bear of HLD and Barbara Purcell of the Provost's Office have received a mini-grant to study aspects of interpersonal relationships. They are interested in interviewing men and women, either divorced or married, as part of their research on the subject. Individual interviews should take approximately one hour and will include questions about psychological aspects of intimate relationships. If you are interested in being interviewed or wish further information, please call Barbara Purcell, x2343, or Roberta Bear, x2374 or 2354.

ATTENTION, FACULTY . . . There will be a workshop for Governors State University faculty on "Assessing Prior Nonacademic Learning," Thursday, April 10, in Room B-1318, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Faculty members from other universities and community colleges will also attend. During the all-day workshop, participants will be considering and discussing the aspects of standards and criteria for college credit based on prior learning experiences. Participants will explore three GSU programs: The Board of Governors and University Without Walls Bachelor of Arts Degree Programs, and the CEEL (Credit Through Evaluation of Experiential Learning) Program. Margaret Lee, acting coordinator of the Northeastern Illinois University Board of Governors Bachelor of Arts Degree Program, will be the special consultant for the workshop. Several members of the GSU Office of Assessment staff will present relevant information.

THE GSU STRING QUARTET . . . is performing throughout the Chicago area as part of a five-concert/event series, under the direction of Francois D'Albert, GSU Community Professor of Music. The String Quartet appeared on the University of Illinois-Circle Campus recently and recorded for Vox Records, March 23. The musicians will perform: at Northeastern University on April 10; at the Chicago Public Library on May 4; and at GSU on April 27. They are expected to present another concert at GSU in May.

ATTENTION, SENATE MEMBERS . . . Dr. Donald Walters, Executive Director of the Board of Governors, will be at GSU, Thursday, April 10, to meet with members of the Senates for question and answer sessions in the Admin. Conf. Rm. Meeting times on Events page.

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT . . . The Governors State University Theatre has announced the cast and crew for the upcoming Spring production "Hold Me!" The production is an entertainment by Jules Feiffer. The ensemble of five actors includes: Lynne Simari, Calumet City; Tymme Summers, Phyllis Shuran-Camplin, Vaughn Van Dolah, Park Forest; and Gerald Thompson, Chicago Heights. The production will be directed by Temmie Gilbert of the Theatre Department, with the assistance of co-director Beth Taylor of Park Forest. Sets and lights will be designed by J. David Weiss of the Theatre Department. Other key technical positions and crew members include: stage manager, Bill Brown, Chicago; light board operator, Loren Beuke, Chicago; and prop and costume coordinator, Georgia Selmon, Chicago Heights. All members of the cast and crew are GSU students. The production, which will be presented in the GSU Theatre May 16-17, and May 23-24, is a humorous revue which blends a series of sketches, skits and vignettes using the characters made famous through the author's renowned cartoons.
