Submit Proposals Now for April 7 GSU Research Day

Friday, April 7, will be GSU Research Day, an opportunity to celebrate the research and creative works of our faculty, staff, and students. Presentation formats include individual and panel presentations, poster presentations, “authors’ corner” displays, and creative works and research demonstrations/workshops. All topics of research and scholarly activities from all academic disciplines are welcomed. Information about the GSU Research Day proposal process is here. Proposals are due by Friday, February 24.

Student Letter to State Government

The student government associations at many of the colleges and universities in Illinois have collaborated on an open letter to Governor Rauner and the leaders of the state legislature concerning the budget crisis and its effect on education. The letter requests a meeting between the leaders and the student representatives to discuss problems and solutions.

The letter says, “Your responsibility as elected representatives is to serve the residents of Illinois, and our roles as student body presidents require us to advocate for quality education at our universities. Neither of us will be able to accomplish our respective goals if we do not work together.” GSU’s Student Senate President, Justin Smith, is one of the 20 signatories to the letter.

Graduating This Spring? Tell Your GSU Story

Attention 2017 Graduates! Do you have a fantastic GSU story that you’d like to share? The Office of Marketing and Communications wants to give you an opportunity to tell it on camera for posterity. Details and more information are here.

Register Now for Spring 2017 Graduate Fair

On Saturday, February 25, the annual Spring Graduate Fair will be held in the E Lounge from 9 a.m. – 1 p.m. Even if you haven’t made up your mind yet about pursuing graduate studies, you should attend. And you should bring a friend! Prospective students will meet with representatives from the programs in all four colleges and attend information sessions on financial aid, GRE, and GSU programs. The registration deadline is February 22.

Free Textbook Exchange

Students, did you know that there is a free student Textbook Exchange on the Library balcony? The Textbook Exchange is open during regular library hours. Students are invited to visit the Library balcony and scope out the Textbook Exchange shelves to determine if there are any books of interest. The books are free, and students may take them as needed. “We suggest that if a student is going to take a textbook that they offer one in exchange when they can,” Library Dean Lydia Morrow Ruetten said.

New Survey for Will County Residents

A confidential online survey for residents of Will County is being conducted by Mobilization for Action through Planning and Partnerships (MAPP). The survey gives residents the opportunity to offer opinions on topics such as employment, safety, transportation, health, and much more. GSU students, faculty, and staff who live in Will County (looking at you now, Prairie Placers) are encouraged to take the survey.

Announcements and Events

Black History Month

February is Black History Month, a time to remember important people and events in the history of the African diaspora. In 1976, the previous one-week observance was expanded into Black History Month as part of the U.S. Bicentennial and was officially recognized by the U.S. government. At that time, President Gerald Ford urged all Americans to “seize the opportunity to honor the too-often neglected accomplishments of black Americans in every area of endeavor throughout our history.” The full schedule of events and programs for celebrating Black History Month at GSU is here.

Professional Learning Series

To help all students, alumni, and staff thrive in today's diverse workplace, the Office of Career Services is offering the Professional Learning series, a collection of workshops to address topics that may influence the overall well-being of the working professional.
